"Something's Changed . . ."

As my life goes on I believe
Somehow something's changed,
Something deep inside
A part of me.
There's a strange new light in my eyes,
Things I've never known
Changing my life,
Changing me.
I've been searchin' so long
To find an answer.
Now I know my life has meaning,
Now I see myself as I am,
Feeling very free.
Life is ev'rything
It's meant to be.
When my days have come to an end,
I will understand
What I left behind;
Part of me.
I've been searchin' so long
To find an answer.
Now I know my life has meaning,
Searchin' for an answer,
To the question, "Who am I?"
Maybe it's truth, it's only natural,
Good things in life take a long time.

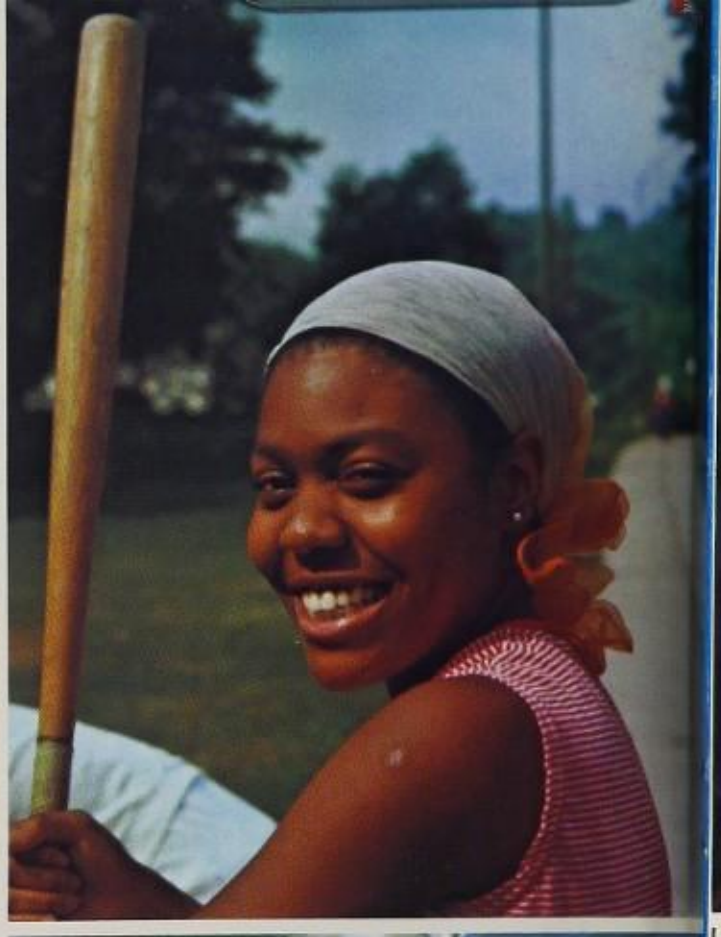
HOLMES HIGH SCHOOL

COVINGTON, KY.

Each year is unique. Something changes all the time. The year of 1976 is particularily unique because our country is celebrating its 200th birthday. Two hundred years of phases have occurred and there are years ahead of us full of changes. Our own school has changed over the years and will continue to change. To remember that one unique year that is important to you there will always be a need for a source of memories. Let this be your source for 1976.



PHACES

AND PHASES

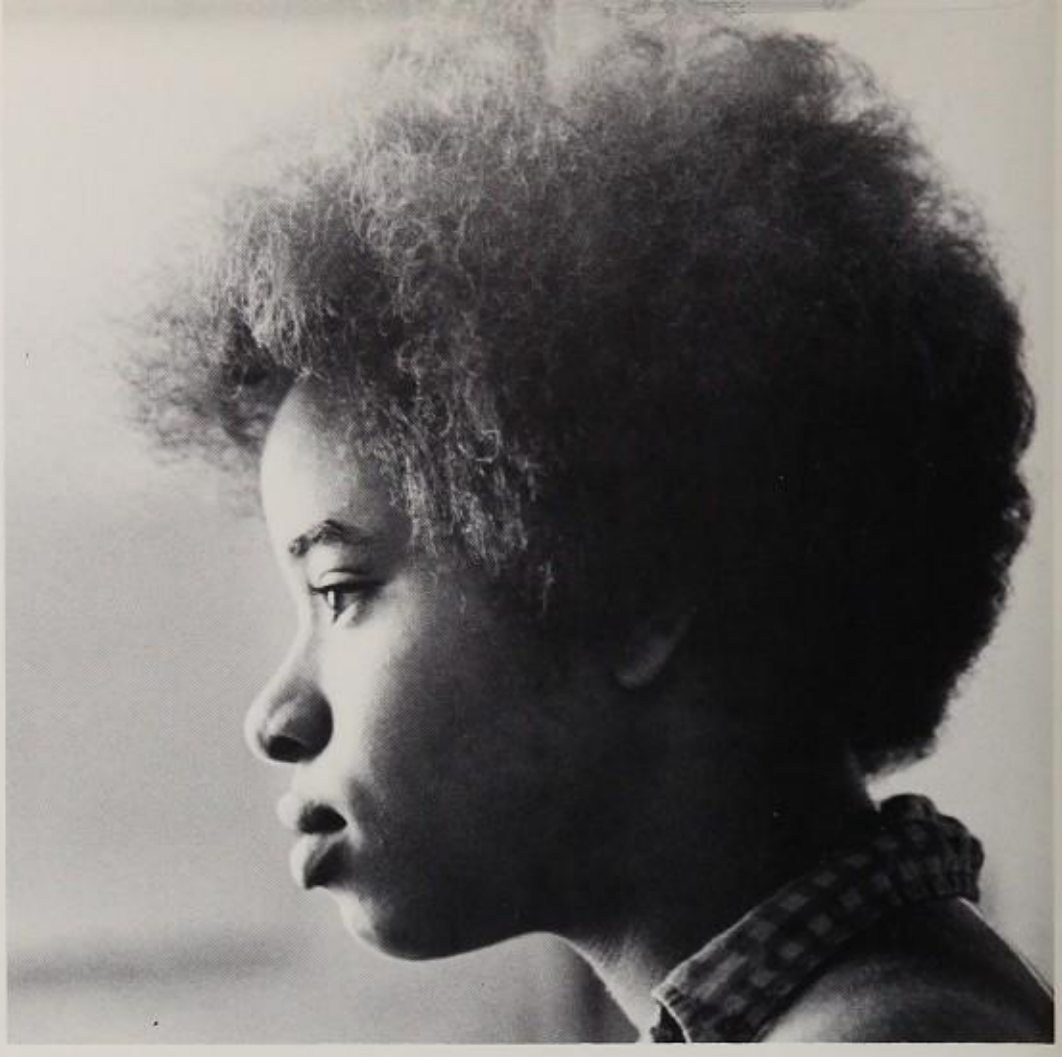
Everyone's face is basically the same. Two eyes, a nose, a mouth, cheeks, a chin, and a forehead. However, the look in the eye, the smile or frown, the expression on the face makes each face different. Basically, your face may never change. However, your expressions will change frequently.

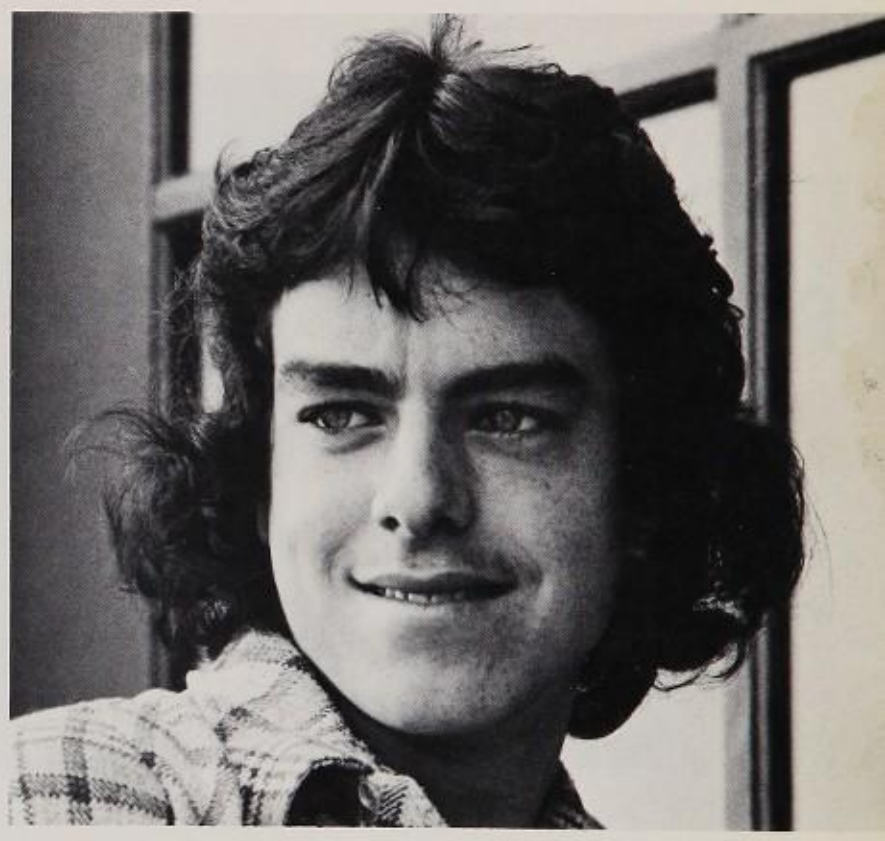
Just as the expressions of a face change, so do the ideas in a school. For the first time, students had a voice and a choice concerning specialized study in a subject area: Phase Electives in English. The program, under study for more than a year, marked a radical departure from traditional English classes.

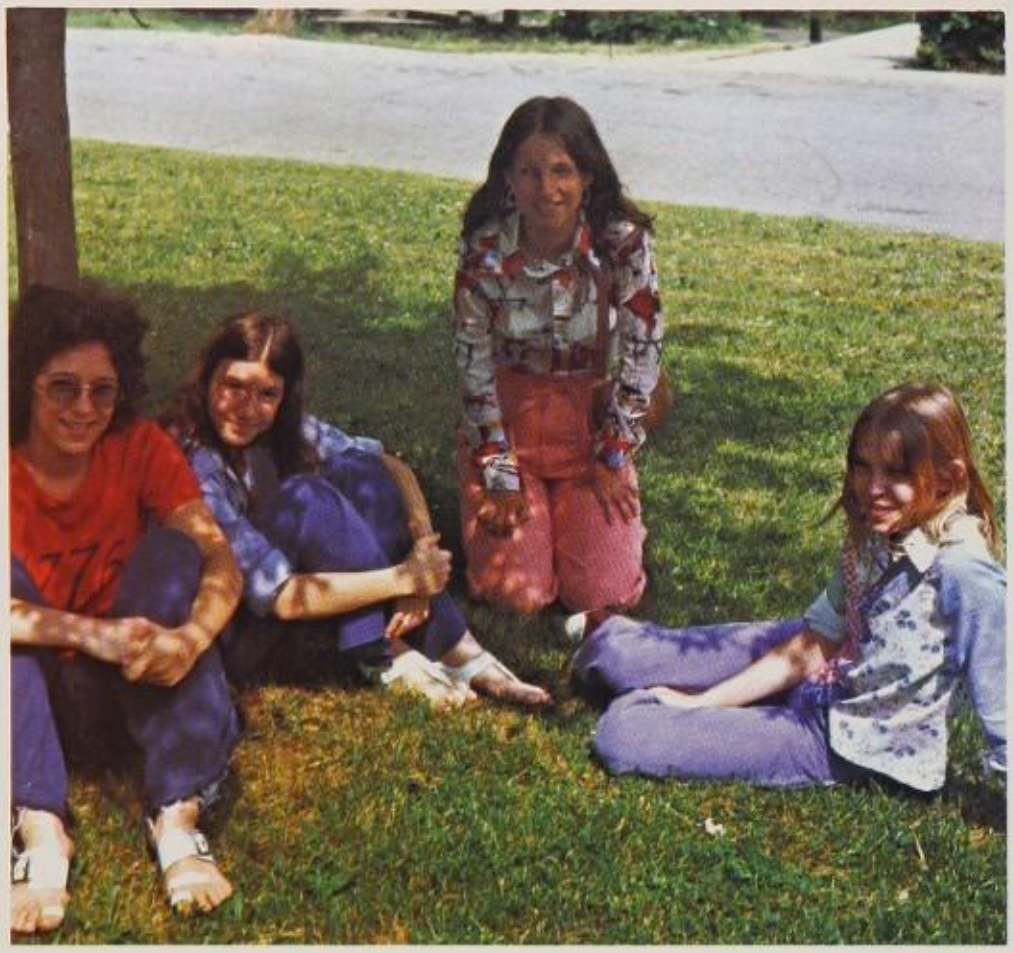
Another new phase began this fall when our first driver's education class began. Under Mr. Johnson's direction, students learned the do's and dont's behind the wheel for the first time in the school's history.

A final important phase began this year as the school system came under the control of our new superintendent, Dr. Gary Blade. All important decisions stem from the Board of Education, so this change might turn out to be the most important new phase of 1976.

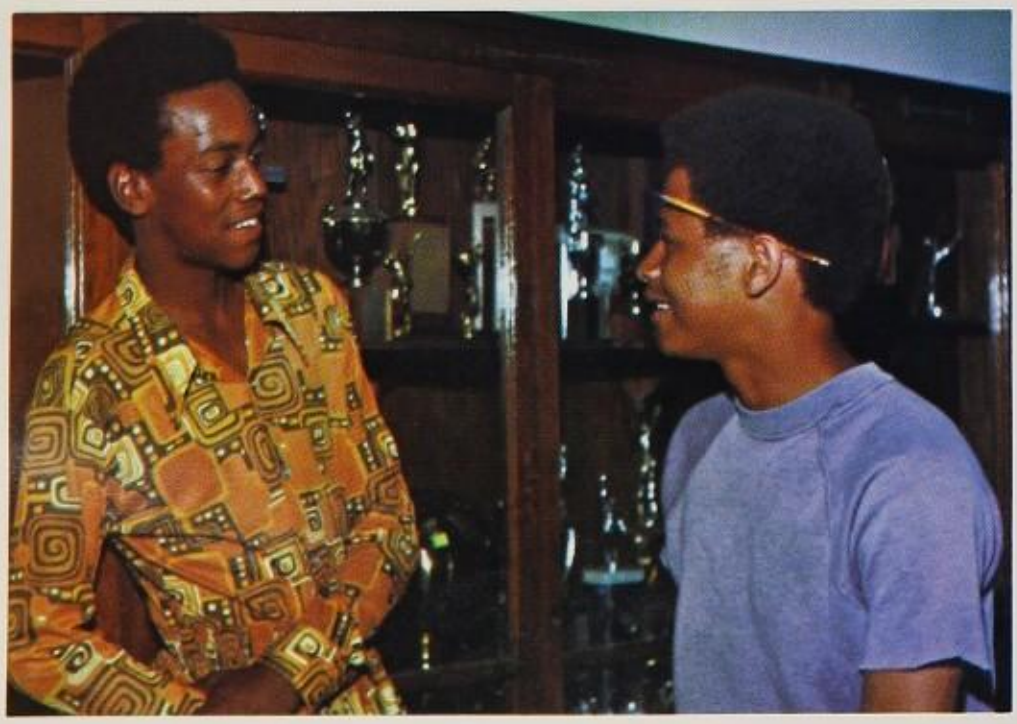
One thing is certain — without change, little or no progress can be made. We hope that all of the new phases in our school life will lead us to better futures, just as we hope that the new phase that America is entering will be a richly rewarding one. The "Spirit" of '76" must go on long after this year of celebration and renewal, both in our country and here at Holmes High School.

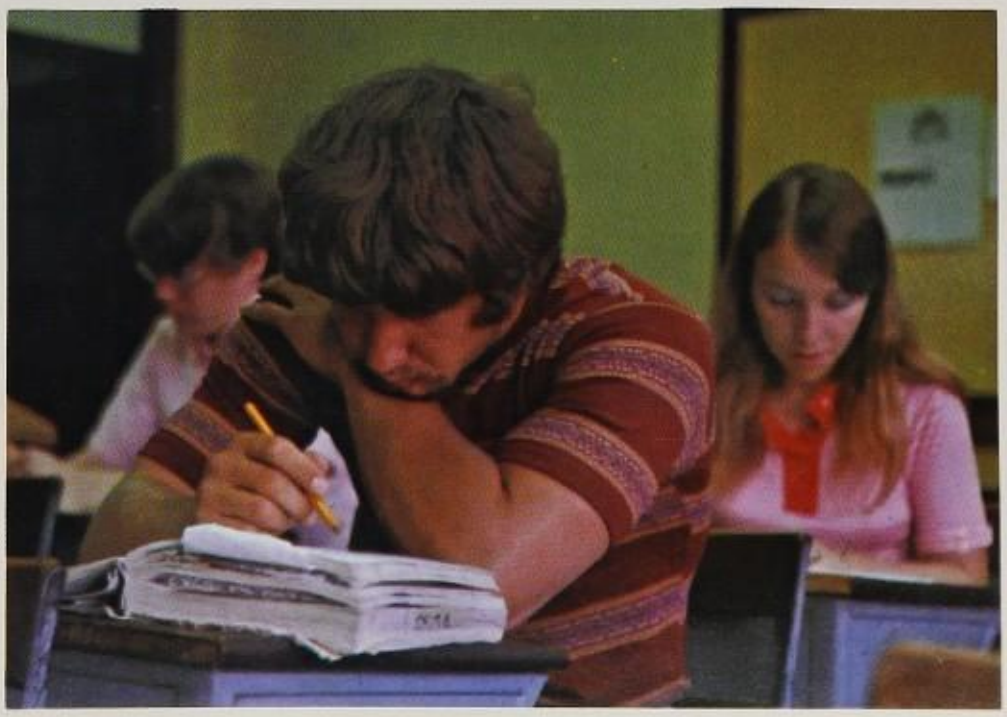




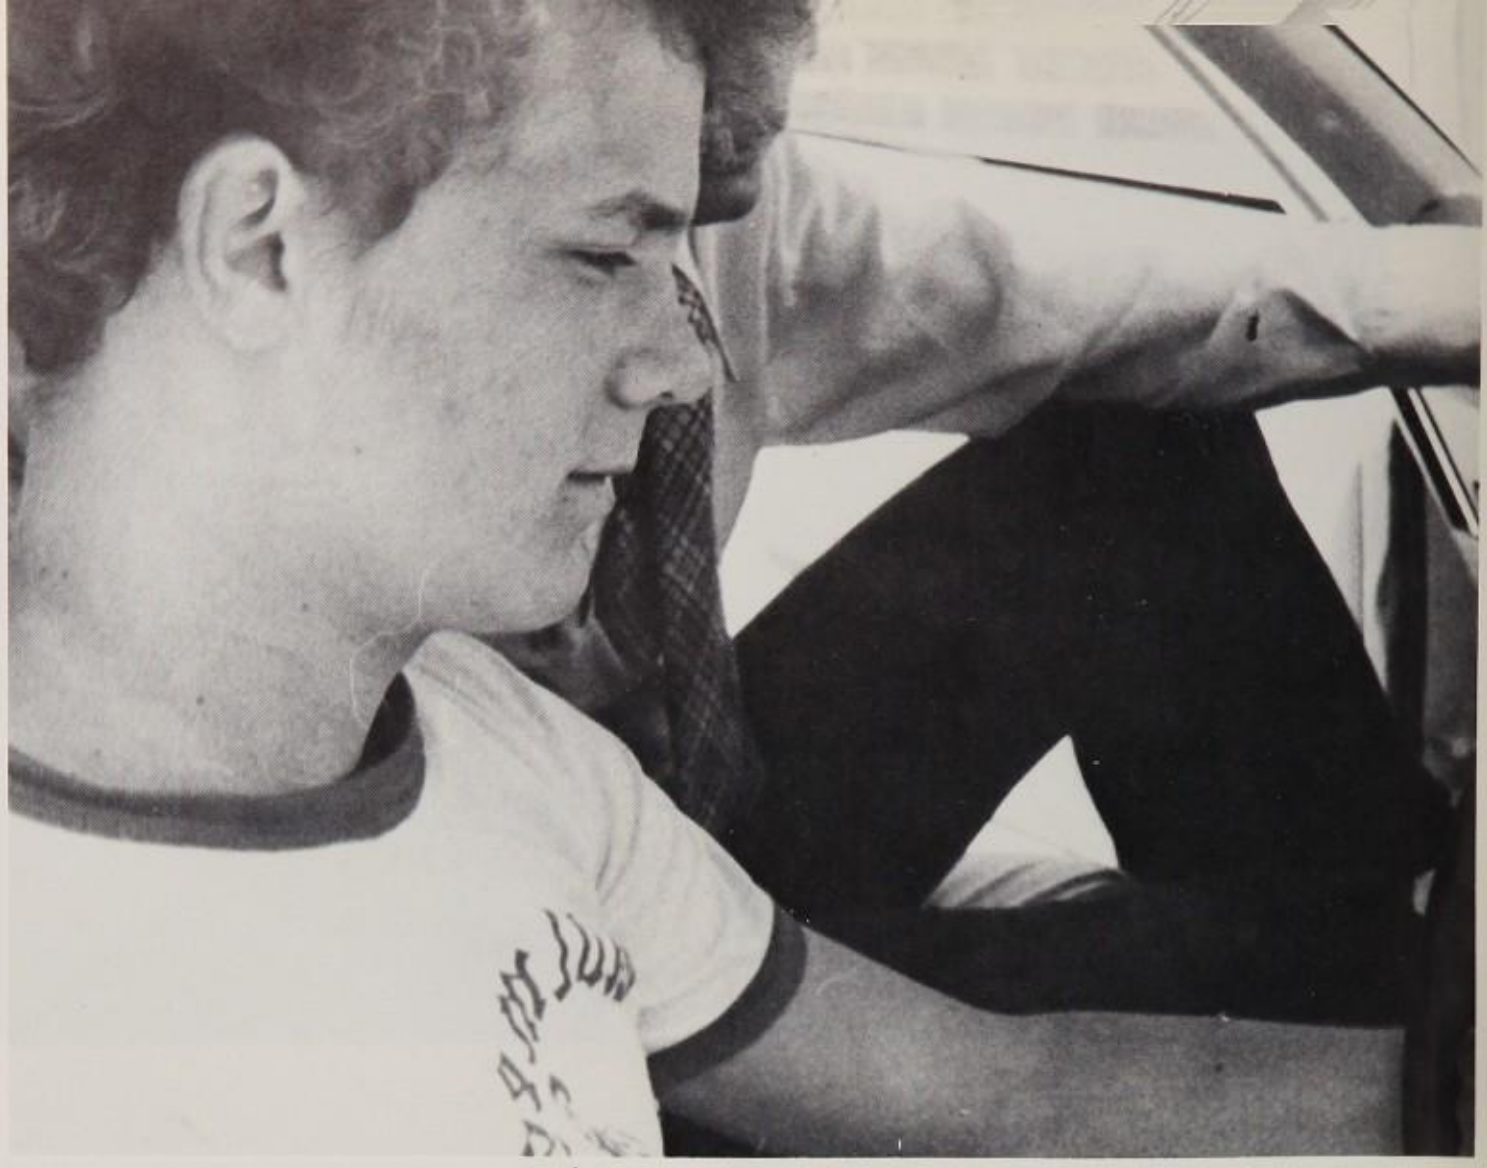


TENNESSEE



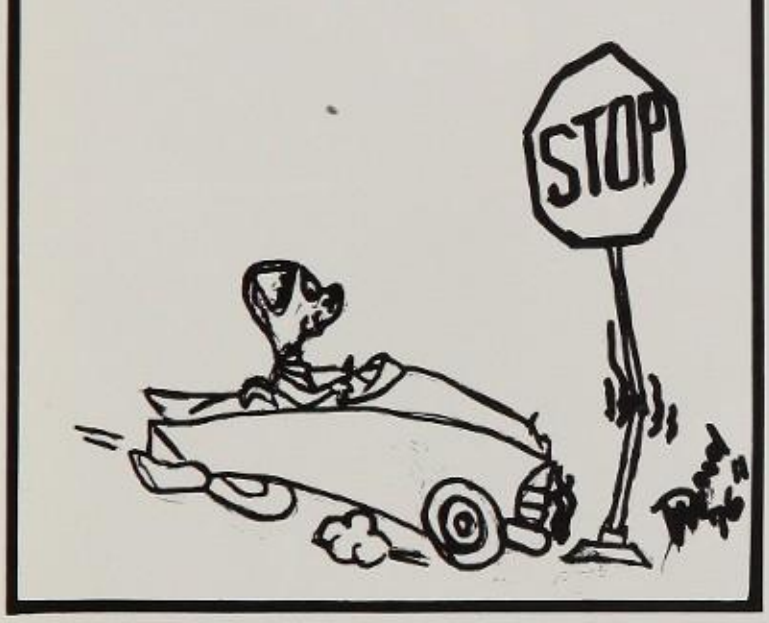


NEW PHASE BRINGS NEW PHACE



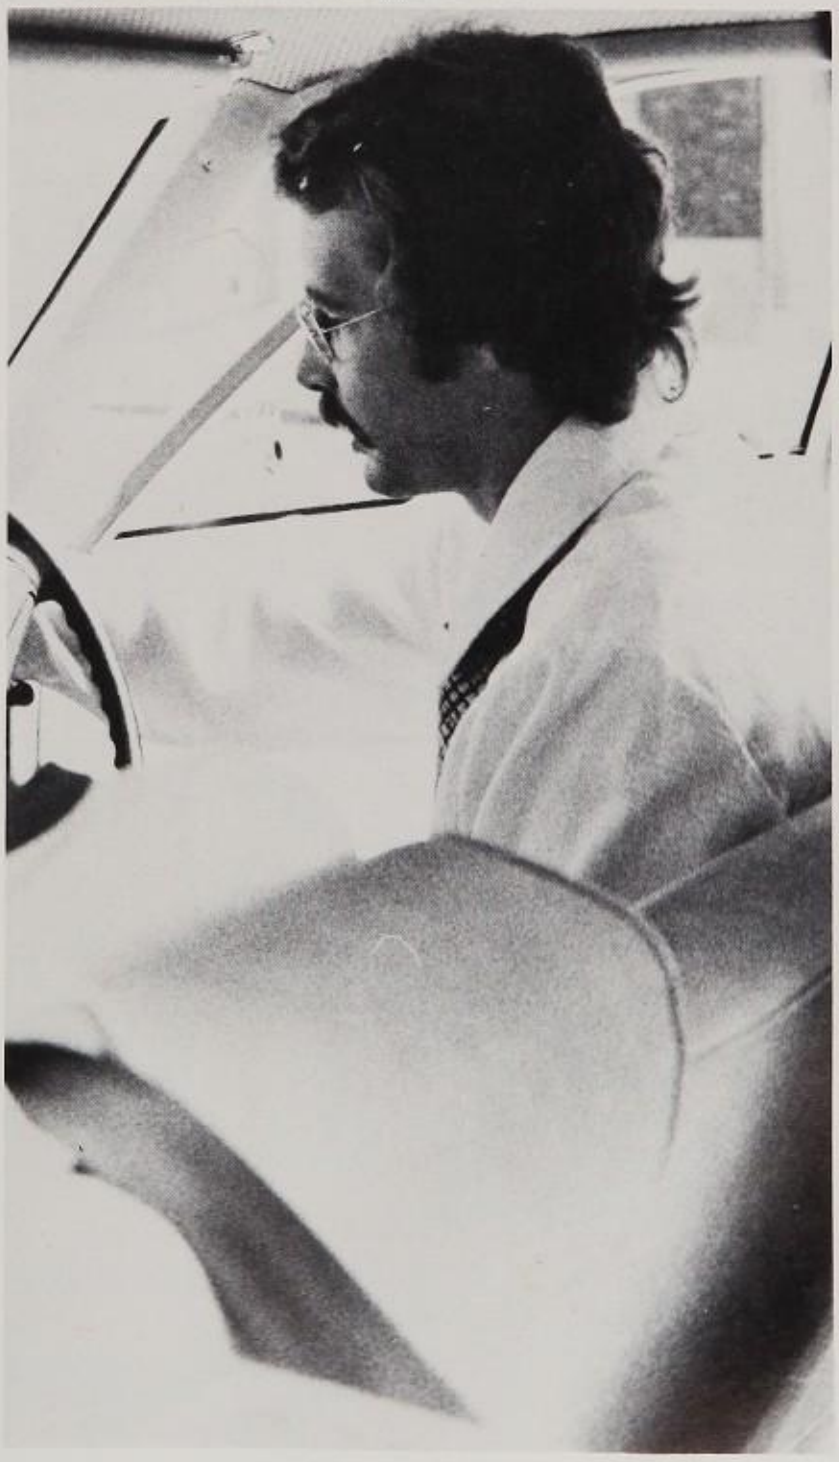
A new phase of learning, and a very practical one at that, began this year at Holmes. Mr. Terry Johnson, a new teacher, taught the first Driver's Education course in our school's history. "Other than getting the car a little late, the program has gone very well," he said. "It would be nice if we could expand this class so that everyone who wants to take the course could."

Top: Mr. Johnson instructs a student on the basics of operating the car before driving. Left: Clear the roads! A student driver and Mr. Johnson are just about ready to roll. Right: The car: A 1976 Chevrolet Nova, light beige, 4-door.



The students were very enthusiastic about the course. Mr. Johnson thinks this is because the students have wanted a drivers training course for a long time.

The students learn safety precautions, and regulations in the classroom. They meet for these lectures one day a week. Also, one day a week they apply their classroom learning out on the road, and the other three days they spend in study hall.



Top: Students listen intently while Mr. Johnson explains the workings and gauges of the dashboard. Right: Mr. Johnson, a new teacher this year, is enthusiastic about the progress of Driver's Education program.

"I COULDN'T IMAGINE IT WAS ME"

The festivities of the Junior Prom began at 8:00 P.M. on May 2, 1975 at the Quality Inn in Covington. The band which played was Crossroads. Bellewood Lanes hosted the after prom.

As told by Mark Hafner, Prom King, "In general, the prom ran smoothly and there were some very good comments made, concerning the way it was conducted. The band was good and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves."

Experiencing the nomination, and the winning of any activity can be a thrilling adventure. Carol Baker, Prom Queen, explained, "The other nominees and I were standing there and I kept hearing the other names being called. Suddenly, my name was called out and I just stood there because I couldn't imagine it was me. When I did realize that it was me who really won, I got so excited I was a complete nervous wreck."

Both Carol and Mark plan to attend the Junior Prom in the spring of '76. Neither would miss it for the world.

Years ago, proms were the big thing. Everyone went to the prom. However, this seems to have died down. Carol feels, "A big reason is the expense. The girl's formals, shoes, etc. . . . and the guy's tux, the flowers, etc., have all gone up. Also, everyone is into more informal dress today and would rather not go somewhere which calls for formal dress."

Although the prom was successful, there is always room for improvement. Mark commented, "It could stand for a little more organization. Also, more total class participation should be shown. Plans should be started as early as possible."

Besides these suggestions, it was a successful affair and Mark had this to say, "I hope the prom for the Class of '77 will be as big a success as the Class of '76."

"123 YEARS AGO TODAY . . ."

The first Covington High School, built in 1853, was located at Eleventh and Scott Streets. It was called Central High School. The building was only a one room school house. The principal and only teacher was Professor A. Drury.

The annual report of 1858 stated that there were 96 students enrolled in this school. The cost to each student was $11.30 for each three month term. The salaries of the Principal and assistant principal were as follows: Principal Mr. H.N. Phillips, $900.00; first Asst. Principal Mr. W.H. Works, $700.00; second Asst. Principal Mr. E.M. Owens, $600.00.

In 1869, Central High School had a four year course of study. The course consisted of four years of English, four years of math, four years of Latin, two years of history, and two years of science. June 5, 1869, marked the beginning of the graduation exercises of Covington High School. The first graduate was Amelia S. Orr.

Later, in 1872, another school was built at Twelfth and Scott Streets. It was given the name of Covington High School. During this time, according to Collins History of Kentucky, the Covington School System was among the best in the state. This school system was made up of one high school and four district schools.

In 1915, Holmes High was purchased for $40,000, including the Castle and the 16 3/4 acres surrounding it. Soon after this, the Senior building was built, joining the "Castle" and the new building. In 1928, the Junior building was built.

This plaque in the Administration Building recognizes the "Holmes Castle" as it looked in 1936. The English-Gothic style castle was the home of Daniel Holmes until 1915 when it was bought by the Covington School Board. The castle and all its grounds were bought for $50,000. The castle was dedicated to the progress of education.

The current Holmes Administration Building was a castle in horse-and-buggy days.

In 1936, a new and modern Administration building was built on the site where "the old Castle" had been.

The most recent of the buildings built on the Holmes Campus is the David M. Evans Physical Education building, built in 1965.

In 1925, the football stadium was built and later dedicated to Mr. Tom Ellis, a teacher, and very fine coach, in 1974. He is a great person who will always be remembered. We are celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the stadium this year, home of the "Fighting Bulldogs."

SWING INTO SPRING

"One of the high points of this season was taking a young ball club and building it into a winning team" replied Mr. Haney, coach of the Holmes Baseball team.

Mr. Haney said there wasn't any one outstanding player: there were 15.

One thing that was emphasized this year was speed and defense. The team was better in fielding than batting.

Other highlights of the season were finishing as runner-up in the 34th District, beating Boone County, Campbell County, and Holy Cross by the over powering score of 13-2.

Coach Haney said there wasn't any specific rival, because it varies from year to year. Any team in the District tourney or in NKAC is always a rival. In conclusion, Mr. Haney said, "For all the baseball players who read this, I want to thank you for last year's effort and a successful summer season and I have confidence that this will be The year."

WANTED: A LITTLE INTEREST

The Bulldog linkmen took part in sixteen matches last season, a conference tournament, and a district playoff.

The district playoff is the most important event of the season, with all golf teams of Northern Kentucky entering.

Last year's record was 3 wins and 13 losses, with one tie. Out of the sixteen teams in the area, Holmes finished seventh, while in the NKAC they finished tenth.

Coach Steve Sheehan feels that his golfers have done well, considering the facts that he had only five golfers, and little interest is apparent in a city school like Holmes for golf. "The team might get a lot better if more students were interested," he commented to us. "If you can shoot a 45 for nine holes, and you are interested in joining our team, get in touch with me in room 214 Jr." This is not a paid advertisement, just a sincere plea from Coach Sheehan. Good luck, fellas.

HURDLING...

HURLING...

HURRYING

This strong team compiled an impressive record of 11 and 2 during the past season. Coach Jenkins pointed out that there was no single strong point, the team was strong in all positions; distance running, sprints and field events.

No major changes are looked for in the program, but Mr. Jenkins hopes that more men will be going out for track in the future.

One of the high points of the past season were winning the Boone Co. Invitational. Holmes was the first Northern Kentucky High School to bring home this honor. Later, Holmes took second place in Regional Competition.

There were also three school records that fell to the running Bulldogs.

They were:

½ mile run Terry Jaggers — 2:02:9

1 mile run Mike Gullet — 4:30:3

2 mile run Mark Abell — 9:50:1

The Cross Country team is made up of men striving together to build a winning team. Most people here at Holmes do not realize the time and work put into this sport. When practicing speed running the team runs approximately 2 miles. When working on distance the teams runs 10 miles. A total of 334 miles were run by each member. Some members run more in their spare time.

Holmes Harriers completed another successful season finishing second in the region, second in the conference, and 7th in the state.

RAISING A RACQUET

Last year's team, led by Kevin Haverly (now on the tennis squad at Northern) and Mike Phillips, posted a 12-6 slate, while winning seven and losing three in the NKAC.

The outstanding juniors last year were Bob Farrell and Greg Dishon. Farrell's record was 11 and 4, and he was 1-0 in the NKAC. Dishon was 12-6.

Mr. Spurlock thinks 1976 will be a rebuilding year because of the loss of five experienced seniors in 1974. Several returning players, in addition to Farrell and Dishon, show promise. They are juniors, Rick Howard and Darrell Hutton, and sophomore Todd Goodridge. Also, he has three very good young players, freshmen Robert Marshall and Jeff Ward, and 8th grader, Roger Andrews.

Mr. Spurlock speculated that a girls' tennis team might also be started in the near future.

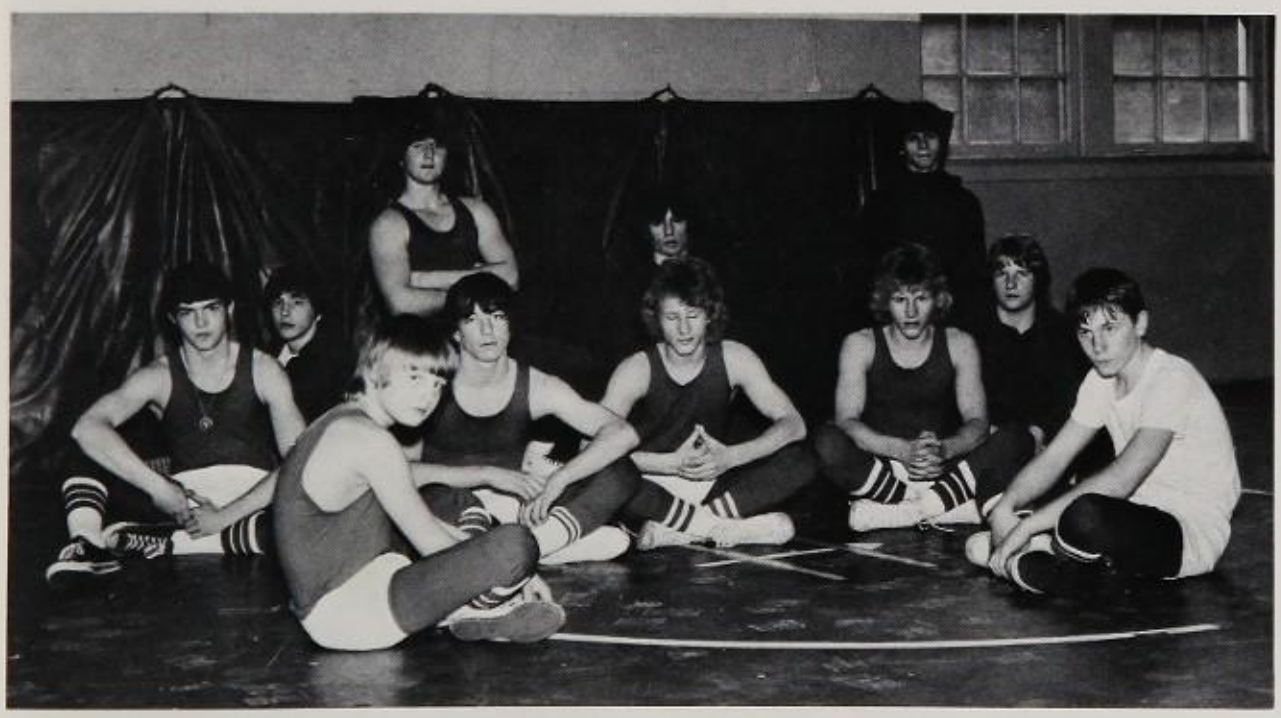
Although the '75-'76 wrestling team did not finish as well as they hoped, some of the wrestlers had fairly good individual seasons.

Dave Thueneman, the Most Valuable Wrestler of '76, finished second in the NKAC and also in the 9th Region. He also represented the school in the state finals in Louisville.

Dean Davis, the wrestler with the most pins (6), took 1st place in his weight class in the NKAC tournament, along with Steve Cahill and Henry Chan, both placing 3rd. Capturing 4th place were Larry Meyer and Perry Wing.

First year wrestler Karl Lentz was named Most Improved Wrestler, and Marcus Knoerl was given the title of "Most Valuable Team Contributor" by coach Roy Gilfedder.



1976 RESERVE TEAM Row 1: Danny Hamlin and Kevin Silver. Row 2: Roger Andrews, Larry Meyer, and Barry Meyer. Row 3: Greg Sexton, Todd Goodridge, Mike Owens, Brad Trusty, Keith Skinner, and Curtis Chaney.

"TIME RAN OUT..."

HUDDLE! The Bulldog team plans their strategy for the next play.

Our #1 quarterback, Mike Moore, attempts to hit one of the Bulldog ends downfield.

The 1975 Bulldog football team went through several frustrating phases, ending with a record of 4 wins, 6 losses.

Not one to make excuses, most people can see why Coach Lou Cynkar might be justified in making a few after some of the losses the Dogs suffered. To further clarify this, the coach replied, "In the ten games we played, we were winning eight of them in the last quarter, only to be defeated by one point twice and five points once. In other words, seven points kept us from having a 7-3 record, which would have been the third best record in Northern Kentucky this season. We did beat Dixie 14-0, and they were the District representative for the State Championship. But the loss to Boone Co. 12-7, as time ran out for us on the one yard line, really kept us from going downstate."

However, the season was not a total downer. Coach Cynkar smiled as he reminisced on the reserve football team's fine season. "We are really looking forward to next year. The reserve team was undefeated, and allowed only fifteen points, while scoring one hundred eighty."

After battling through the tackles, fullback Mike Wolfe heads for the goal line.

Statistician Brenda Collins records the yards gained on the last play during the Homecoming game against Boone County.

ATTITUDE AND EXPERIENCE SPARK

The Bulldogs, rated second in the region in pre-season polls, came out growlin' against cross-town rival Holy Cross, defeating them 74-64, establishing a winning pattern that continued during most of the season.

Highlights of the early season were wins over Boone Co. to capture the Boone Inviational Championship at Christmas, and the incredible victory over number one Newport Catholic to take the trophy at the Newport Invitational just a week later. In what many fans will remember as one of the greatest games of all time in Northern Kentucky basketball history, the Bulldogs triumphed 83-80 over the Thoroughbreds, after trailing by fourteen points, 71-57, with seven minutes to play. Sparked by several key steals by co-captain senior guard Mike Moore, and scoring by Moore and "super soph" Doug Schloemer, the Dogs completely dominated those last seven minutes to pull victory from the jaws of almost certain defeat. It was truly an unforgettable game for those who saw it.

As the season progressed, the Dogs had their ups and downs, one week rated #1 in the coaches' poll, the next suffering a defeat from the Newport Wildcats.

The team began to pick up momentum again in late January after whipping another rival, Covington Catholic. Next, they outran a strong, undefeated Maysville team at Maysville, 82-71.

At publication time, the team certainly seemed to be many coaches' and writers' choice to represent the ninth region at Louisville in March. It had already given the students and community many exciting memories. (For late season results, see the scorecard, this section.)

Coach Reynolds Flynn felt the Bulldogs had two distinct advantages over their foes: good attitude and overall team experience. And the talent did not stop with the starting five; substitutes Mark Moeves, Jim Humphrey and Roy Meyer gave the team strong secondary support.

The talk of "Downstate '76" from the students and the general community gave the team the confidence to do the job this year.

As Coach Flynn said, "The '76 Bulldogs were not a tall team, but they made up for that with their quickness and fine shooting." At publication time, the team was averaging around 83 points per game, and the '76 Holmes Bulldogs will be remembered as one of the finest quintets in many years.

KEGLERS COMPETE

The boys bowling league, sponsored by Mr. Tom (Doc) Bauer, boasts evenly-matched teams and a tremendous spirit of competition. Mr. Bauer feels the reason for this is the fact that most team members know each other very well. And the lower teams in the standings are always spotted some extra pins (a handicap) when bowling the better teams in order to keep the matchups close every week.

"These guys never give up, because they feel they always have a chance to win", says Mr. Bauer.

This league awards many trophies, including team trophies, High Game, High Average, and even one for the Most Improved Bowler.

The boys roll'em every Tuesday at Bowlounge and hold tournaments at the end of their regular season, some in association with the girls league.

Left to right: Doug Massie, Treasurer; Mike Chipps, Secretary.

The girls bowling league, sponsored by Ms. Janet Clark, is made up of eighteen four-member teams, an increase of several bowlers from last year.

The league awards several trophies, including High Game and High Average, as well as trophies to the first four teams in the league. A Last Place award is also unceremoniously awarded to the least spectacular keglers.

The girls bowl every Wednesday at The Bowlounge in Latonia, and the competition is fierce, along with the fun and exercise (?) A tournament wraps up the bowling season.

The Holmes girl's softball team exploded with 14 wins and only 2 losses. The team won the 1975 Northern Kentucky High School Softball Championship. The powerful girls scored an amazing 142 runs and only gave up 82. Half the team are heavy hitters, batting over .300. The batting average for the entire team was .337. Some of the outstanding players on the '75 team were Kim Ruth, Tanya Carr, and Karen Kreidler.

Miss Mitchell says that the '76 team is just as strong as last year's. The improvement which desperately needs to be made is that "The fields are in terrible shape. Meinken Field is never worked up. There are gigantic holes which cause unbelievable errors that are not really errors." The team bombs the softball well and the defense is magnificently tight.

GIRL TRACKERS MATURE

When Mrs. Noll was asked, "What is girl's track?", she replied: "Track is both an individual sport and a team sport. Track comprises five running events, two hurdling events, four relay events, and four field events."

When asked how the team has progressed, she said, "When I started with the team two years ago, we had several seventh graders. These seventh graders have stayed with us and now they have become more mature, both physically and mentally. They have also matured in attitude."

She then said, "Basically, I believe that three improvements are necessary for a better team this year. We must first begin the season earlier so that the girls peak sooner. A second improvement would be to make the girls work harder. Finally, I personnally feel that we need more team spirit."

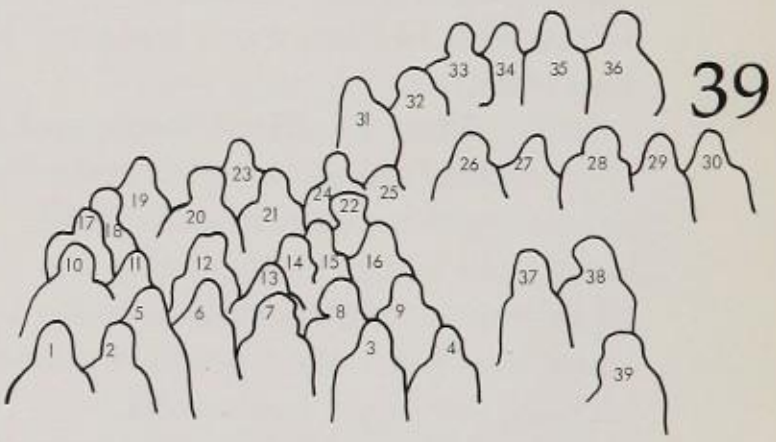
Although the name "Powderpuff Football" does not sound very rough, the girls really get out there and knock each other around. But there weren't any serious injuries, just black eyes and sore muscles.

The season was started on the right foot by topping the Boone Co. Rebels, 27-0. The next game against Bellevue went just as smooth, 27-0. The following game was a disappointment, Holmes losing to Campbell Co., 7-6. The girls came back to win the next two games, stomping Dixie 40-0 and Lloyd 13-6.

The teams victories were a result of many long hard practices. The girls truly earned the wins.



Sweep to the right! Marilyn Arnold runs the ball while other team members block.

Kim Ruth receives the hand off and heads for the goal.

JUST MISSED FIRST PLACE

The girls' varsity volleyball team had a spectacular season this year winning 15 games and losing only 2. Their winning percentage was .889 compared to Bellevue, the first place team, which had .941. Bellevue captured first place by a scant of .052 percent. Miss Wolfe said that her only disappointment was the team's early season loss to Campbell County, which kept them from being tied for first place with Bellevue.

Although the game requires only six starters, Miss Wolfe felt that she had at least 12 girls that could and did start in various games throughout the season. We were able to utilize each girls' talents to the fullest extent by starting and subbing them at different positions where their specific skills could best benefit the team. "By capitalizing on each player's individual abilities, we were able to play more people," she commented.

"Mr. Moeves, Mr. Draud, and Mr. Flynn deserve a vote of thanks for allowing 2 regulation volleyball courts to be painted on the fieldhouse floor, a facility that in the past has been used primarily after school for boys' basketball," remarked Miss Wolfe. "We hope this will set the trend for other area high schools to make optimum use of their major gymnasium facilities."

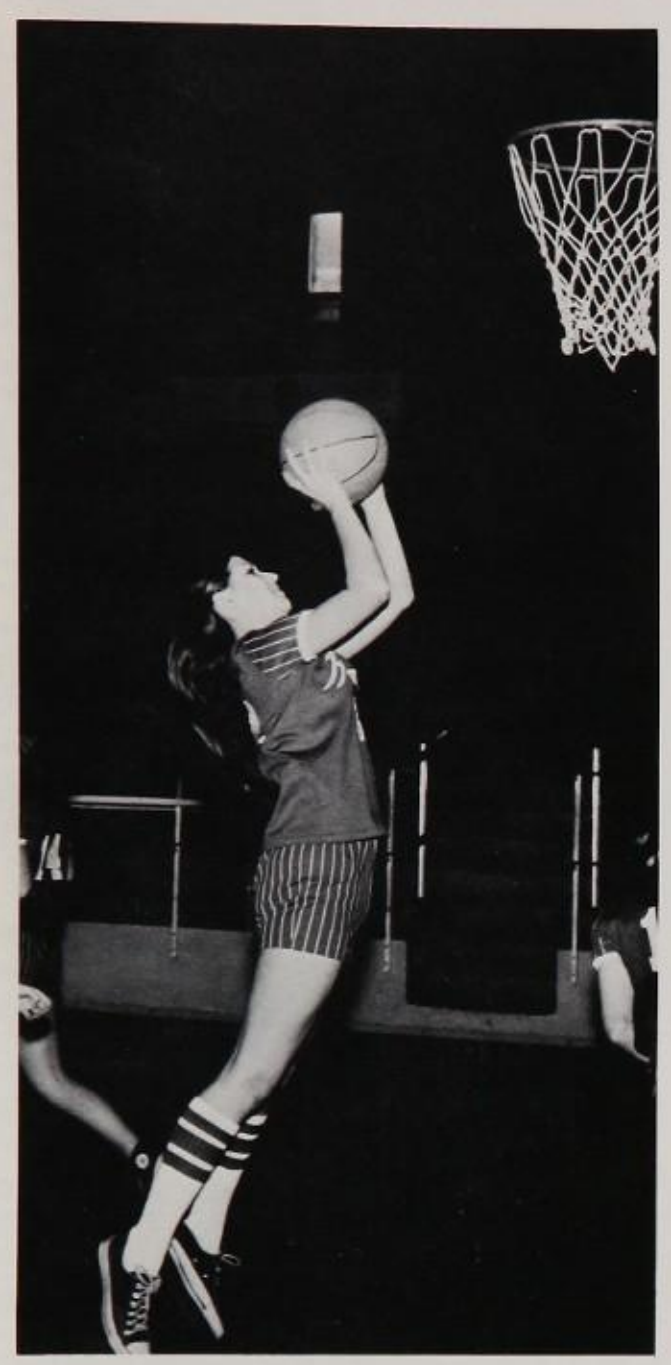
GIRLS HAD SPEED AND HEIGHT



Left: Freshman Tina Beach lays the ball up for 2 points. Top: Toni Cameron dribbles vigorously down court. Bottom: Karen Rimer shoots over a defender in practice.

The 1976 basketball team, coached by Miss Joan Mitchell, consisted of 13 girls. They ranged from 7th graders to juniors. There were no seniors on this year's team.

Although the team could have played a better defensive game and could have nabbed more rebounds, the team had a lot of speed and height.

"We had a very deep bench," replied Miss Mitchell, "We could go nine deep before getting into trouble this year."

One of the high points of the season was the defeat of Bellevue two times. Bellevue was considered to have a very good team this past season. At the end of the year, the girls basketball team was averaging approximately 55 points per game.

"These girls have worked together for 2 or 3 years," and Miss Mitchell feels, "Next year will be the year!" "I feel we can take it all." Watch out — all players will be back.

WORKING FOR THE STUDENTS

Row 1: Vice President Connie Craven. Row 2: Sponsor Mr. Gary Huhn, President Carol Baker, and Treasurer Dave Purdon. Missing: Secretary Sue Berry.

Mr. Huhn, sponsor of the Sr. Student Council, explains, "The purpose of Student Council is to be a service organization of the school, not a policy making body." To prove this purpose, the Student Council organized the homecoming program for football, the Thanksgiving project, and conducted the band and football parent nights. Also, they have planned a homecoming program for basketball, Roy Rogers Day, Fifties Day, a sock hop, and possibly a square dance. In addition to these larger tasks, they are also noted for odd jobs that vary from the pledge of the flag and reading announcements on the P.A. to selling programs for the basketball and football team, and organizing and cleaning trophy cases.

When asked about new phases in Council, President Carol Baker commented, "This year we have an executive committee composed of fifteen people."

Also, Mr. Huhn feels they have accomplished more because of the closer relations between Council and the Administration.

Sitting: Secretary Lori Young, Vice-President Ginny Webster. Standing: Treasurer Jimmy Roberts, Sponsor Mr. Tom Haney, and President Deana Walden.

This year Jr. Student Council held one of their biggest yearly projects, the Faculty game between Junior and Senior buildings. They also completed another big project which involved the old Christmas spirit. They went to Lakeside Place Nursing Home and brought gifts and entertained the people who live there. Also to keep up the Christmas spirit, Council arranged to have a Christmas tree put on the first floor of the Junior Building. Mr. Haney (sponsor) said at publication time that the officers of Jr. Student Council had some more big projects in mind, but were not totally decided yet.

HORIZONS

EACH ONE A COLLECTOR'S ITEM

Horizons went through one notable phase this year. Each and every one of the covers was unique. This "collector's item" cover was made possible by the printing department under Mr. Bennett. The dazzling oranges, reds, blues, yellows, and greens certainly made for an eye-catcher.

The response to the second annual short story contest was good, and the best art and poetry was once more put between covers for the school and community to enjoy.

This year's staff and sponsors would like to thank all contributors and hope that the students and faculty continue to support our creative arts magazine.

HOLMESPUN FINDS ITSELF

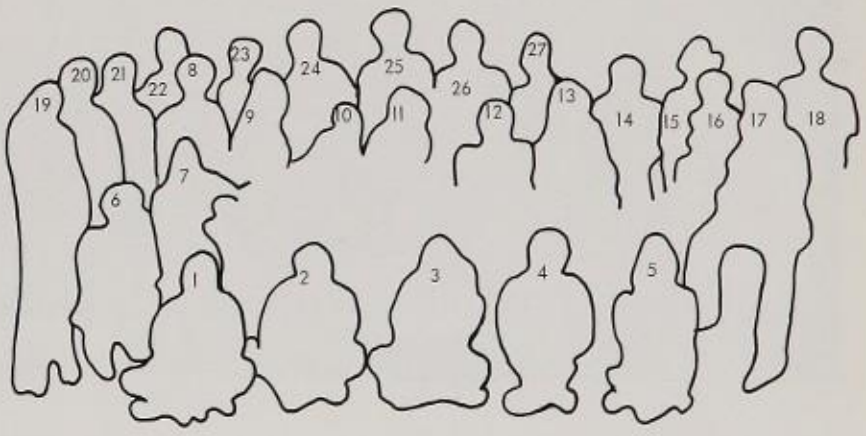
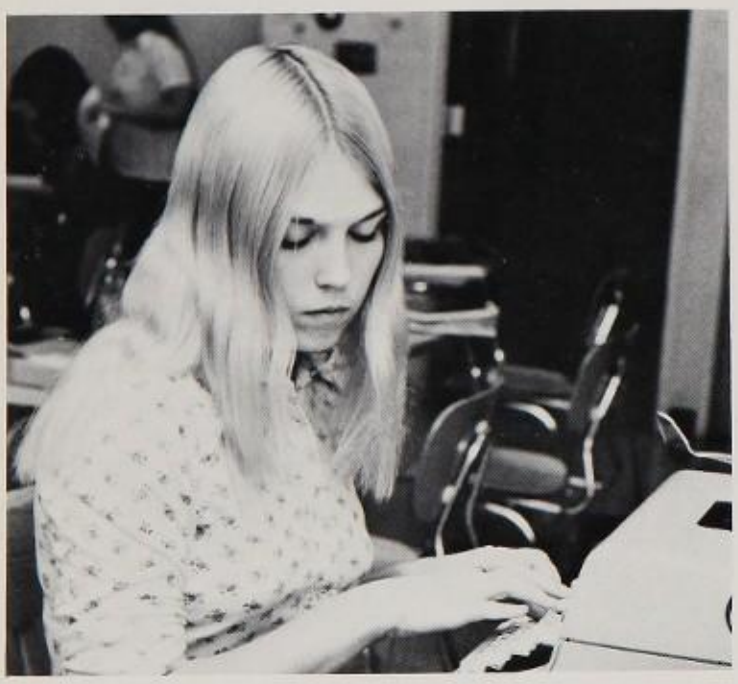
A journalist has a responsibility, that being the complete use of his talent to give his reader the best possible newspaper. This is the idea to which the Holmespun has dedicated itself. One year ago the change was started. That phase took the Holmespun from a plaything to a powerhouse, from a paper of news that didn't hurt anyone to a voice of the student body.

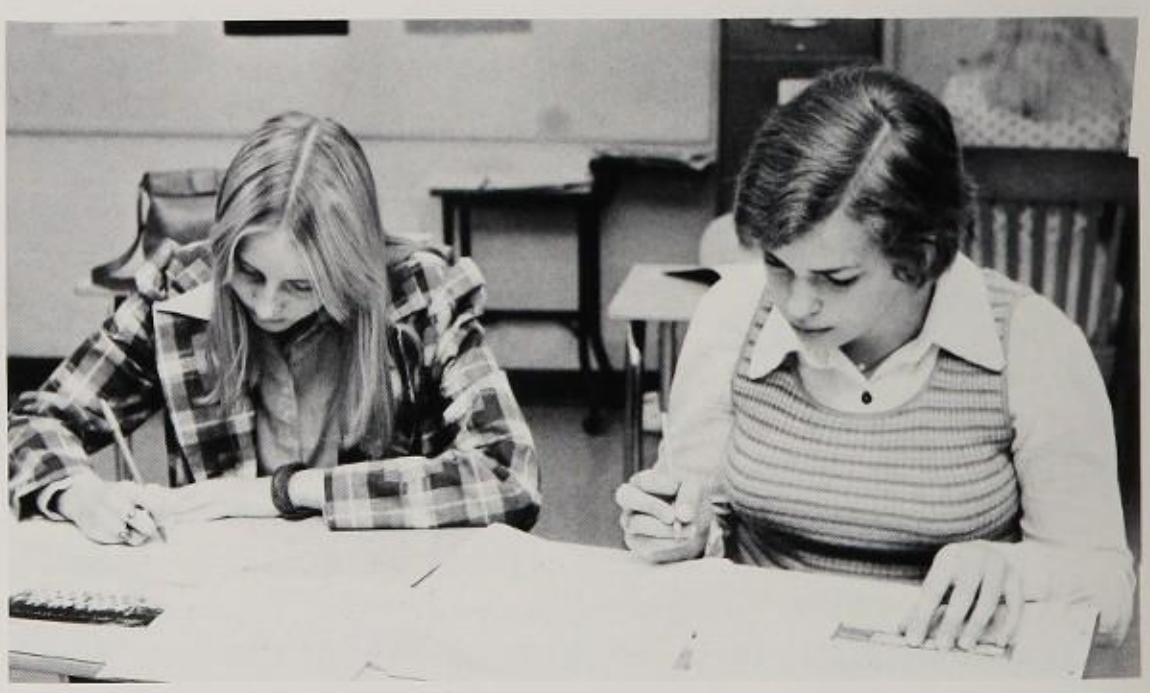
This year was a rebuilding year. A new staff, a new format. With the loss of so many seniors, the Holmespun staff had to be taught and retaught the ways of a professional, lessons you don't find in a book, but only through trial and error.

This was an interesting year in the life of the Holmespun, a year of on-the-job-training. All but one staff member will return next year to carry on further. The "new" Holmespun that was started a year ago has not vanished. It has just begun to find itself again.



A HARD WORKING BUNCH





Top left: Senior Co-Editor Elaine Walls shows junior Jenny Glenn, one of the copy writers, how to set up a headline with acetate-backed handcut lettering. This is one of the creative aspects of putting the annual together. Top right: Junior Co-Editor Nancy Schulte runs down a list of photos scheduled to be taken by staff photographer, Kenny Starks. Kenny also develops and prints many of the photos in this book. Center right: Marjorie Ponder and Cathy Cox, a senior and a freshman, write identifications for pictures and work on basic layout ideas. Most annual staffers begin work as freshmen or sophomores and continue until graduation, learning all aspects of production. Center left: Cathy Black, a junior, types copy written by one of the other staffers. This year, Cathy was also in charge of keeping sales records as well as doing the variety of jobs all staffers do. Bottom right: Diane Felts, a new member of the staff this year, "crops" a photo (trims it to fit a layout). Learning "what to look for" in a picture is part of a staffer's education in yearbook production.

Being part of the staff is a true learning experience that offers a nice reward each spring. The members actually have a finished product; the pictorial record of the year.

They're a hard-working bunch who share a lot of headaches, worries, laughter and sighs of relief while the book is compiled during the year.

Everyday for at least one hour, this book is the project. This year's staff hopes that all students, teachers, parents, and the Covington community enjoy Lest We Forget '76 very much.

CAPTURING THE

Winning first place in a competition is a thrill experienced by every person involved in making that win possible. Our band has captured that sensation quite often throughout this season. They won First Place at the Northern Kentucky Marching Band Festival; Best Parade Band; First Place in Class AAA Large; Grand Champion at the Ashland Band Contest; First Place, the Governor's Cup; and Grand Champion at the Roger Bacon Band Contest. Tammy Lauterbach received First Place and Most Outstanding Field Commander at the West Jefferson Marching Band Festival, I. When reviewing the band's show, the judges look for marching precision, music performance, special maneuvers, and general overall effect.

Because of the band's excellent performances, they were invited to the First Annual Thanksgiving Day Parade in Cincinnati, Kentucky Music Educators Association Concert, and the Governor's Inaugural Parade in Frankfort.

Two important phases occurred which added tremendously to their progress. The increase in the number of members from 92 to 138 was the big change. Also 6 girls twirled their rifles to give the band a variety in their general show.

DEDICATED TO RAISING SPIRIT

1975-1976 Varsity Cheerleaders: Row 1: Connie Craven, Christy Armstrong, Karen Kreidler, Shelly Armstrong, Kim Ruth. Row 2: Tanya Carr. Row 3: Jenny Glenn, Lisa Vanlandingham.

This year's Varsity cheerleading squad is made up of eight spirited girls dedicated to raising spirit and adding a word of confidence whenever needed.

"The team really notices when you do something special for them, and they are grateful", replied one of the girls.

When the squad went to cheerleading camp at U.K. this summer they returned with 1 excellent and 4 superior ribbons (superior being the highest rating). They also received the "SPIRIT STICK" for showing exceptional spirit. This is more than any other squad from Holmes ever achieved in camp.

The girls put a lot of time into cheerleading. They have practices after school and all during the summer.

They spend most of their time thinking up new projects or doing extra work for the football and basketball teams.

Some of the major projects this year were a car wash at the Colony Car Wash, and Frisch's Day to raise money for new uniforms. They were also responsible for quite a few pep rallies and the posters seen in the halls.

All the girls agree that, "It's great to be a Holmes High Bulldog Fan."

Shelly Armstrong screams at the team to move the ball for a higher score.

Freshman Cheerleaders: Row 1: Rae Jean Anderson. Row 2: Ginny Webster, Rhonda Hinkle, Deana Walden. Bottom to top: Tammy Mason, Kim Stulz, Seveva Wight, Yvette Carr.

VICTORY WOULD HAVE

Alumnae register at the table as they arrive for the game.

On Oct. 10, at approximately 8:00, the Holmes Bulldogs trotted down the hill to join the Boone County Rebels on the field of the Tom Ellis Stadium.

The suspense and excitement generated at the pep rally and parade earlier in the day was growing wildly as the opening ceremonies got under way.

When the game started, the Bulldogs made every effort to score against the Rebel team. This was a very important game to the Bulldogs. It was more than a Homecoming game. A victory would put the Bulldogs one rung higher on the ladder to the District title and give them a chance to join other teams downstate.

It was an exciting, close game all the way, right down to the last play when quarterback Mike Moore ran for 33 yards down to the one yard line. There the clock ran out, with the Bulldogs on the short of the score, 12-7.

AND HAPPY

Last year's Queen, Mary Jo Abner, crowns the 1975-1976 Homecoming Queen, Renée Smith.

As Renée Smith poses for pictures, the smile of the new Homecoming Queen expresses her feelings well!

On October 10, as the Bulldog team was battling on the field, the Homecoming Queen Candidates were preparing for the half-time activities.

As Renée Smith walked across the field, just as she had done before in practices, she had no idea that she was about to become the 1975-76 Homecoming Queen.

Renée said she was very surprised and happy when she learned she was a candidate, but "I really never thought I would win," Renée recalls.

Her fans expressed their excitement as last year's Queen, Mary Jo Abner, crowned her.

Although the Bulldogs did not come through with a victory, this was surely the best Homecoming Renée has ever attended.

The results of the voting! Miss Tanya Carr, second runner up, Homecoming Queen Miss Renée Smith, and Miss Tammy Lauterbach, first runner up.

Those students who have had a total average of 88% are eligible to be inducted into the National Honor Society, but there are other qualifications that must be met before you can become a member. The induction committee likes to see the students participate in extra activities. Membership is also based on your character and your discipline record.

There is only one change sponsor Mr. Schomaker would like to see made. He would like to have a certain number of meetings with each member required to attend in order to remain a member.

The N.H.S. is involved in a number of projects. Most familiar to the students are Frisch's Day and "Toys for Tots", when the NHS collects toys or games and gives them to the U.S. Marines to be distributed to children in the Northern Kentucky area. N.H.S. also sponsors the coat check at all basketball games. They also donate money to the Student Council Christmas fund, and provide tutors for students who need the help.

On March 13, the NHS held its annual Frisch's Day. Members of the National Honor Society take over Frisch's and dress up as clowns and raise money for scholarships.

National Jr. Honor Society also has worked on several fund raising projects. They plan to award two scholarships to two graduating seniors this spring.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

One of the newer phases at Holmes is a program called Co-op, only two years old.

Mr. Seta, co-op coordinator, welcomes interested students to apply in his office during the spring for one of the many jobs the program offers. He will then interview these students, talk to their teachers, and check their grades. Many people seem to think the program is only for girls, but boys may also apply.

The jobs available are ones in banks, finance companies, attorney's offices, and even at the Board of Education. These are good paying jobs, from $2.10 an hour up to $3.50 per hour. Up to three school credits can be given to those working at these places.

This is a very good opportunity to get the skills and techniques needed to work in the business world.

Eighty five percent of the students who joined this program kept their jobs after graduation last year. Along with the proposed model office program, to be phased in next year, co-op is another step forward by our progressive business department.

MENTAL ATHLETICS

This is one team whose wins depend on their studying, quick minds, and strong will under pressure. What athletic team could this be? This isn't an athletic team, "It's Academic!"

These students represent Holmes at WLW-T, competing against other high school teams by answering some extremely difficult questions. In order to be prepared for their matches, these dedicated people study together everyday before and after school. They were not chosen by their grade average, but by their answers to written and oral questions on history, literature, science, math, and current events.

Miss Ruth Edwards sponsored the group this year.

Mrs. Thompson, head of our educational television broadcasts, shows some of the equipment used in broadcasting the programs, including "Holmes Campus Views."

HOME OF CAMPUS VIEWS

Most students are familiar with Educational T.V. Miss Thompson is in charge of making these shows run smoothly.

Educational T.V. has been at Holmes for seven years now.

This year a few new programs were added. There was a Bicentennial program, "It's Academic" was taped and "Campus Views" on 2, a program which most students have seen from time to time, was a news show put on by the students about the student and school activities.

Miss Thompson seemed basically to be pleased with the network.

The only thing she wanted to change is the taping of a few new programs for viewing here at Holmes.

ACADEMICS

ACADEMICS

ACADEMICS

ONE BIG PHASE

Practical Arts is a study of the basic arts that are used in the home everyday. The purpose of the course is to get the girls interested in homemaking.

Miss Hodge feels that home economics is a growing field in college and out of school.

The desired class size is approximately 15 because this allows for a more personal relationship between student and teacher. The students are freer to do things on their own in this type of class.

One big item different this year than last year: This is the first year the course has had any boys. Miss Hodge would like Practical Arts as a phase elective course so that any girls or boys from any course could take it, not just girls from the Practical Arts course.

The only major problem seems to be getting the money together to buy the items needed.

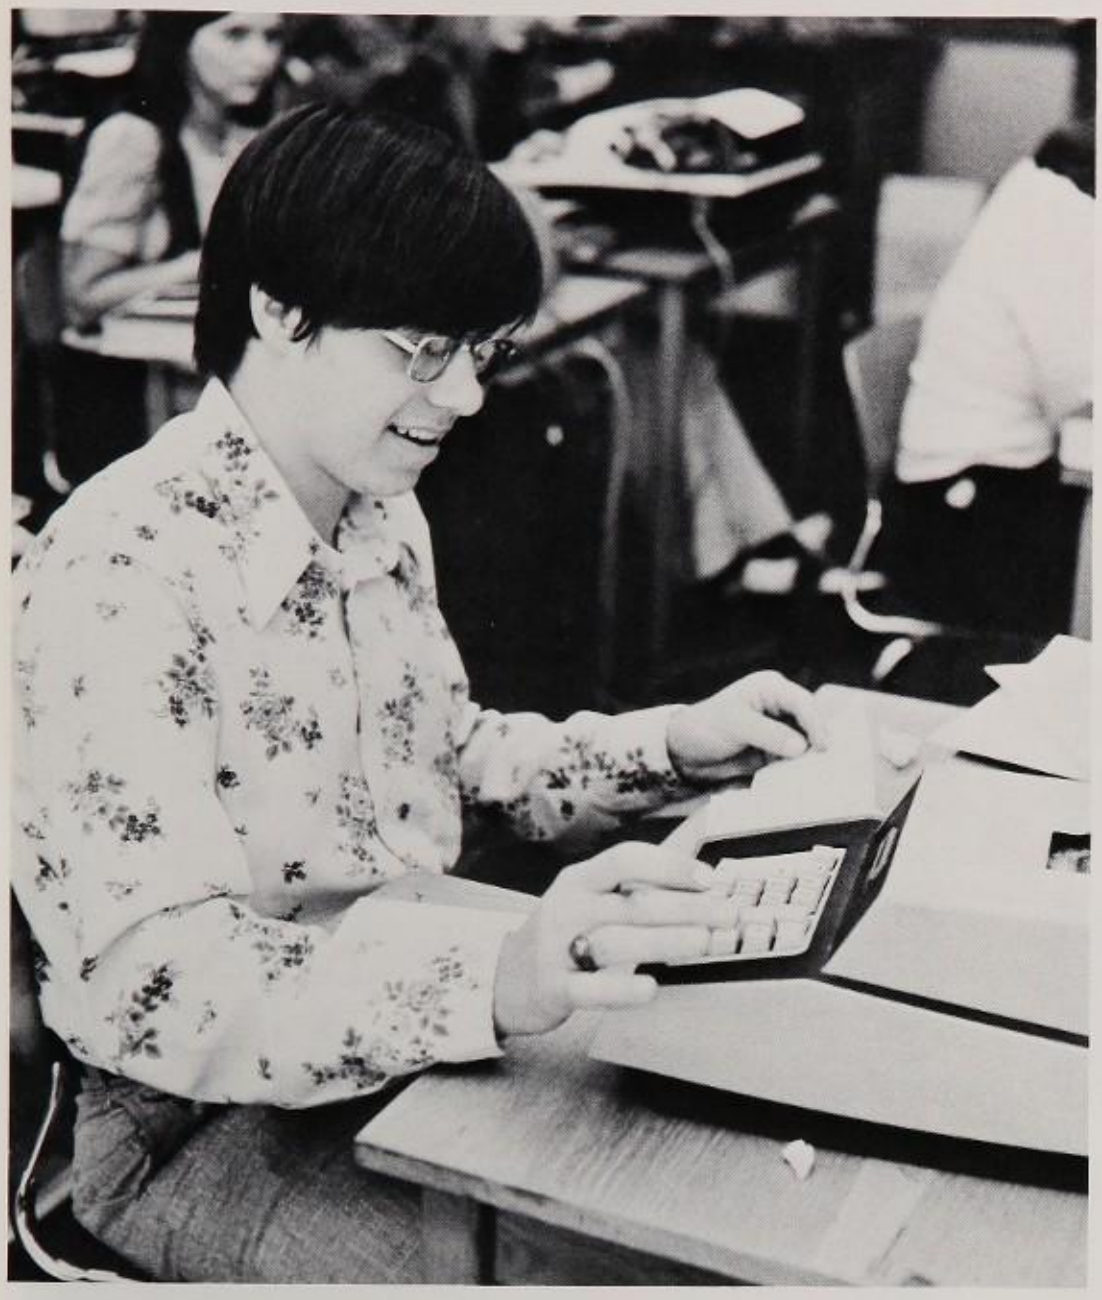
BUSINESS IS BLOOMING



Mrs. Judy Deatherage, head of the business department, would like to see an improvement in the office machines equipment. During the summer, however, the second year typing rooms were equipped with all electric typewriters. In the past, there were some electric, but most were manual. Mrs. Deatherage feels it is necessary for the students to acquaint themselves with the electric typewriters because most businesses use them rather than the manual.

As far as any new phases in the business department this year, there have been none. However, she looks to a Model Office Program next year. She explained, "A classroom would be setup similar to an office. In this way, the students can learn the procedures of office work. The system sounds close to the Co-op, but the students would not have to be away from school at all." This should prove to be a profitable move to better business education.

WORKING ON A MORE PERSONAL BASIS

The main purpose of Industrial Arts is to get the student acquainted with the different branches of the program.

One of the things Mr. Simpson, the Department head, would like to change is the fact that most students are put into this class because of discipline problems.

The student-teacher relationship in the classes is usually a lot more friendly because there are less students to a class and a different type of discipline is exercised. The teacher can work on a more personal basis than usual.

"I would like to see more girls take up the course," said Mr. Simpson. "Most people refer to the Industrial Arts as classes for boys only."

PHASE ELECTIVES IN ENGLISH

One of the most important changes that took place this year at Holmes was the new Phase Elective English Program. It was given the name "Phase Elective English" because during each Phase or quarter the students could choose a different English course to study.

This year there were 20 courses to choose from. These courses were divided into 3 levels of difficulty with 100 being easier, 200 average and 300 the most difficult.

One thing Mrs. Heil would like to change next year is to have a wider selection of courses and senior students taking Phase Elective, also.

The scheduling of the English students took 4 weeks this year.

There were no major problems this year. Mrs. Heil felt it went very smoothly.

Top: Regina Watton prepares to read a story from her mythology book. Bottom: The students in Mrs. Hopkin's class take a test covering their book reports in the course "Reading for the College Bound."

Mr. Huhn instructs his Algebra II class on how to find the slope of a line.

His class listens intently so they can master the chapter dealing with open linear equations.

MATH IN GOOD SHAPE

Mr. Harris, the Mathematics Department head of the Jr. and Sr. buildings, feels that the department is is fairly good shape.

One thing he wants to change is to have the different math classes in the Jr. building more evenly matched by having students on the same level of learning in the same classes. He feels this would be a great help in the teaching of the courses.

Mr. Harris feels the Senior building does not have any major problem that needs change. If the students were more interested in their math courses, it would be a great help in teaching.

Top: Richard Ross listens thoughtfully to the instructions given in his Geometry class. Bottom: Miss Schroeder's Algebra class works diligently on their homework assignment.

FUTURE MAD SCIENTISTS?

Miss Palmer is the director of the Science Department for both the Junior and Senior buildings.

In an interview, she said one of the major things she felt should be changed is that Junior and Senior Science Departments should be divided into two separate sections.

One of the chief drawbacks over the years was the lack of equipment in the Junior Building.

Miss Palmer felt the Senior High had the appropriate equipment for teaching the classes. "One thing I would like to see is a greenhouse for the Biology classes," replied Miss Palmer.

One project Miss Palmer plans to work on in the near future is allowing the students to take more field trips.

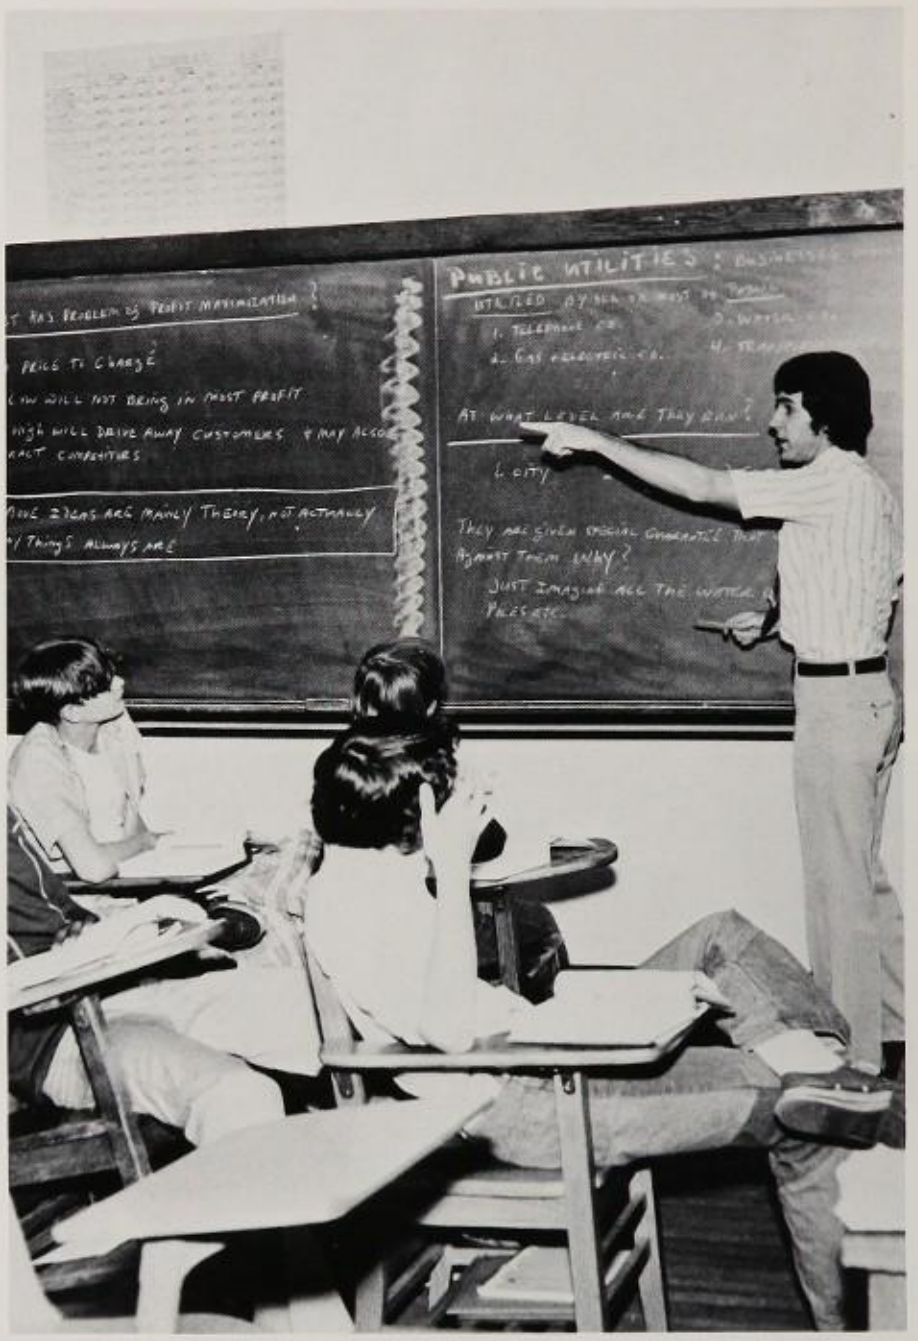
PHASE ELECTIVES IN HISTORY?

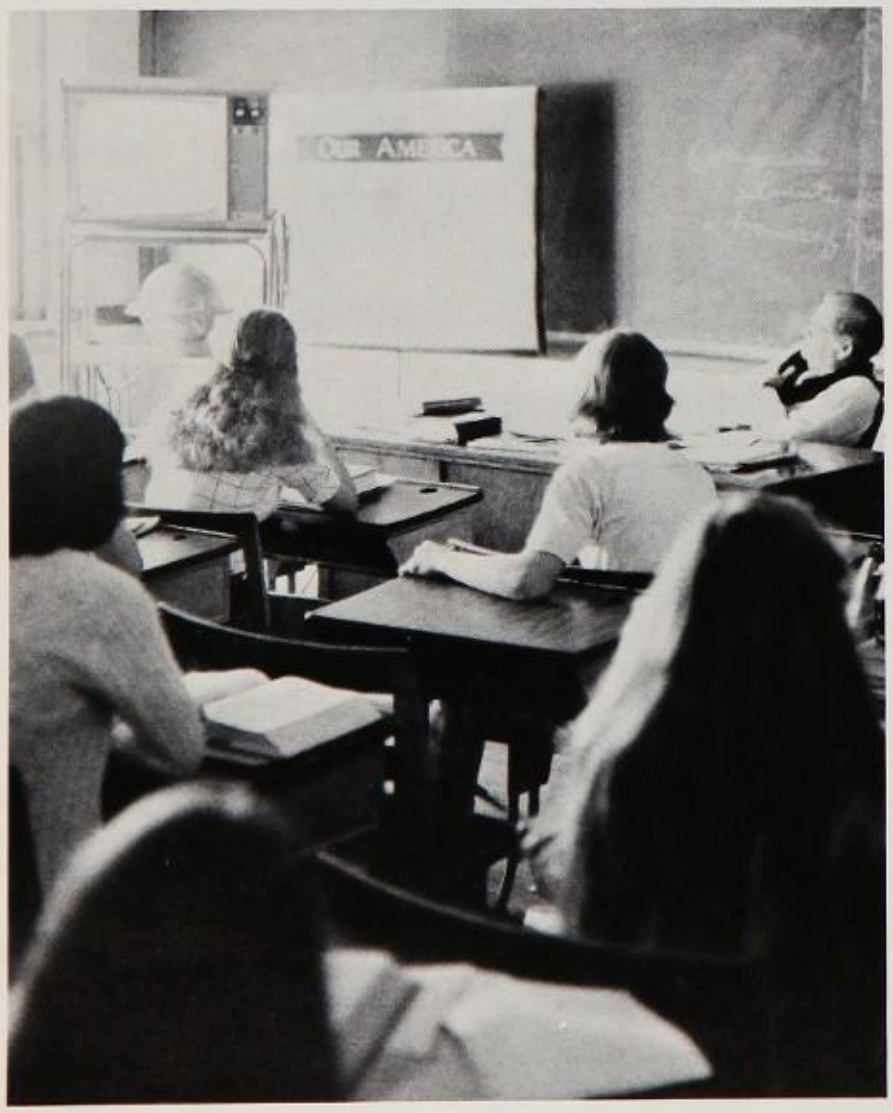
Phase Electives have often been discussed in history, but Mr. Truitt, head of the social studies department, feels this way, "If we had phase electives in history, the primary purpose of history would be lost. One of the main purposes of history is to give the students a general survey of the history of the country." Although there has been some debate, the general consensus is that it would not be feasible.

Our present system includes two credits in social studies, one of which must be American History. Other subjects students can choose from are: World Geography, World History, American Government, Sociology, Psychology, Economics and Minority Cultures.

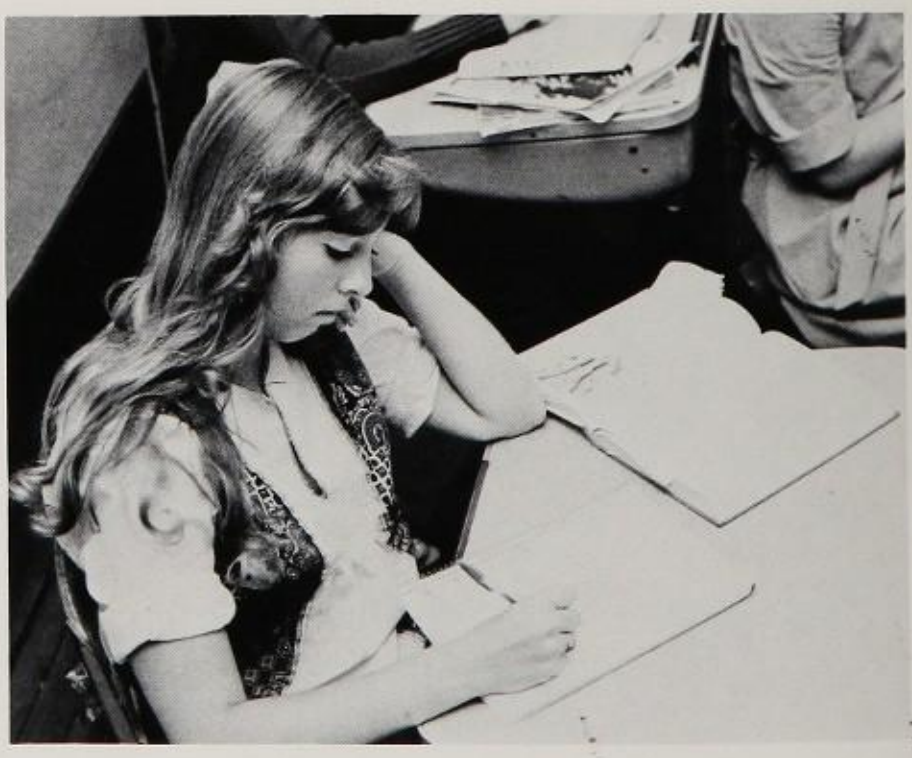
One improvement Mr. Truitt would like to see is grouping by ability, primarily in history.



Mr. Ferguson, economics teacher, teaches his class to spend wisely.



Mr. Hammer's history class watches a television broadcast for the current events portion of their studies.



Brenda Collins gets caught up on her sociology homework during a free period.

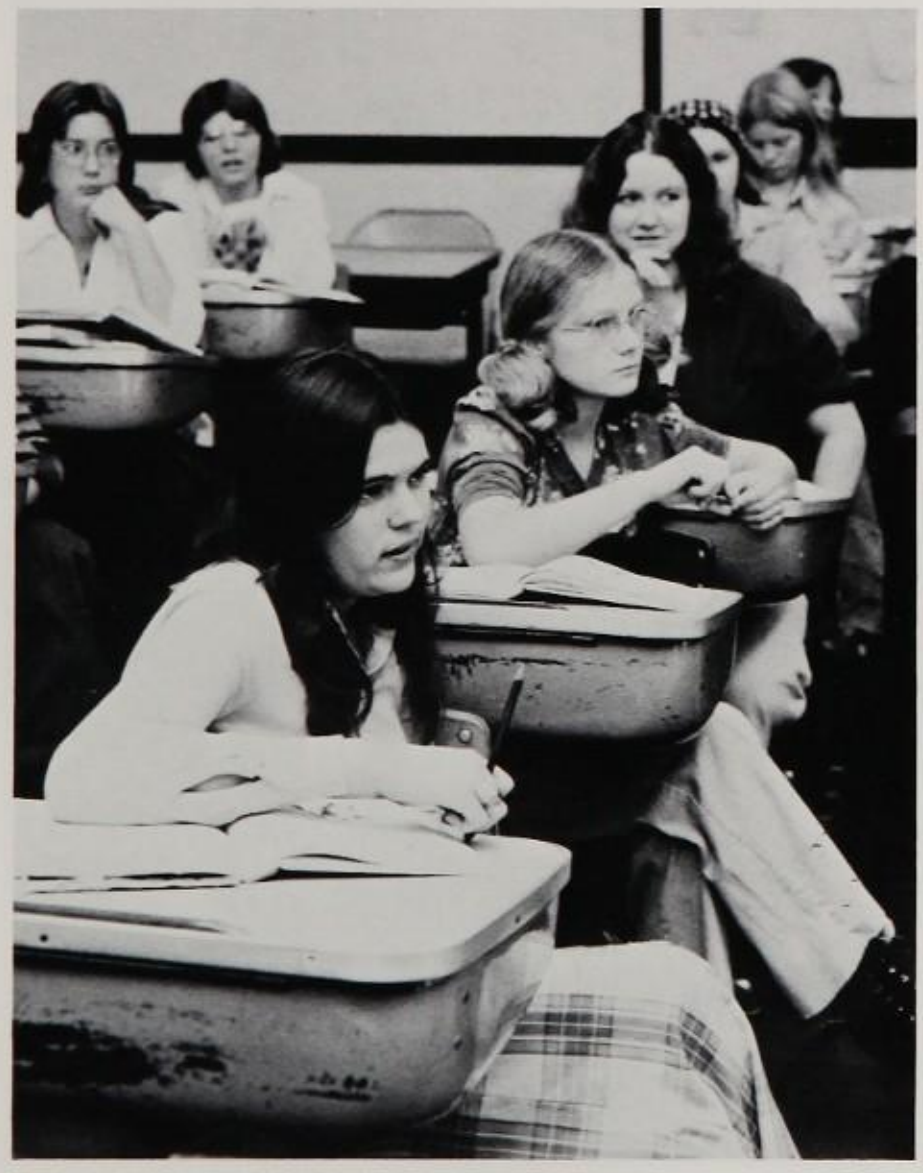
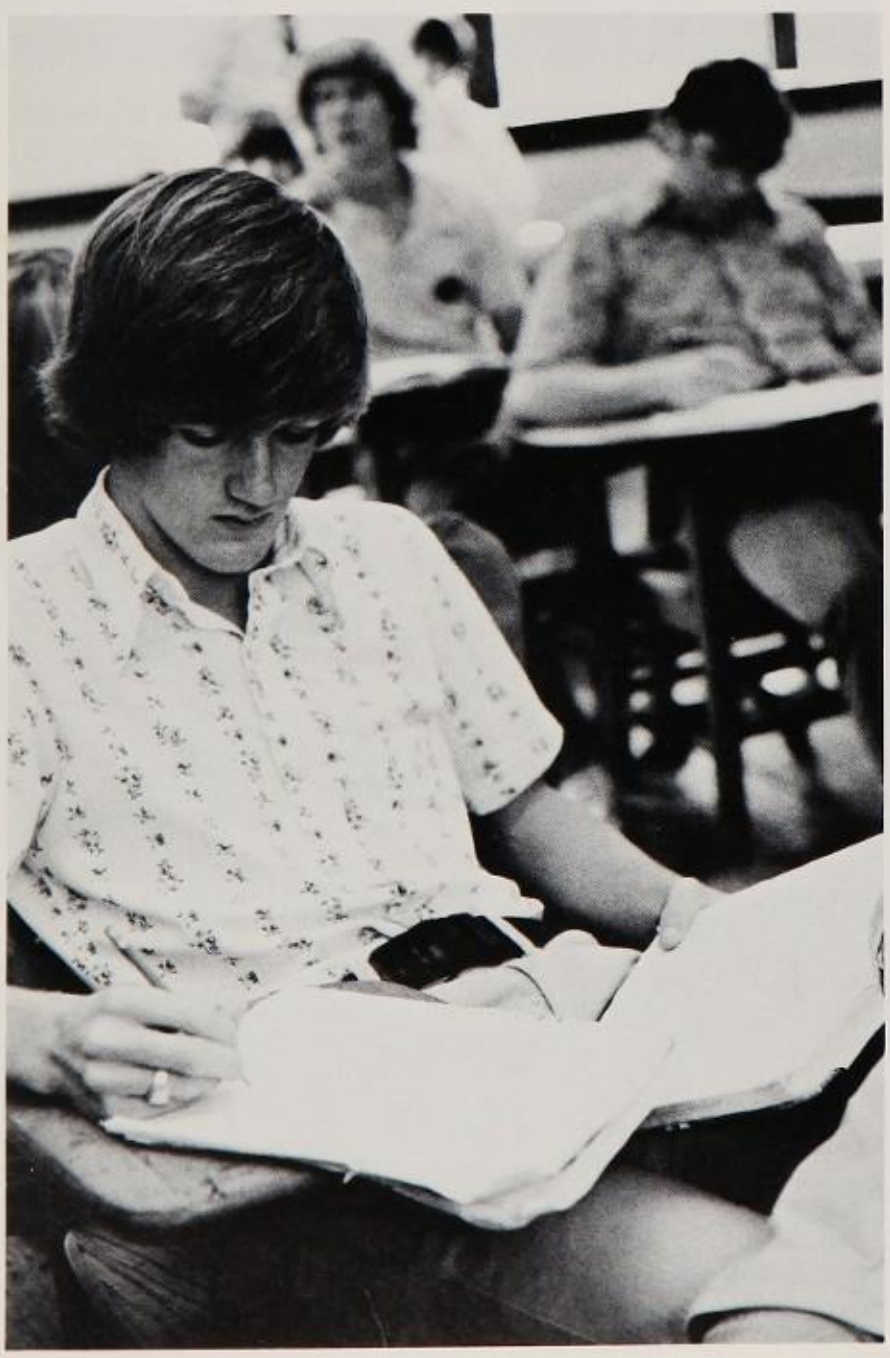
Mr. Ferguson's economics class answers the questions on the board.



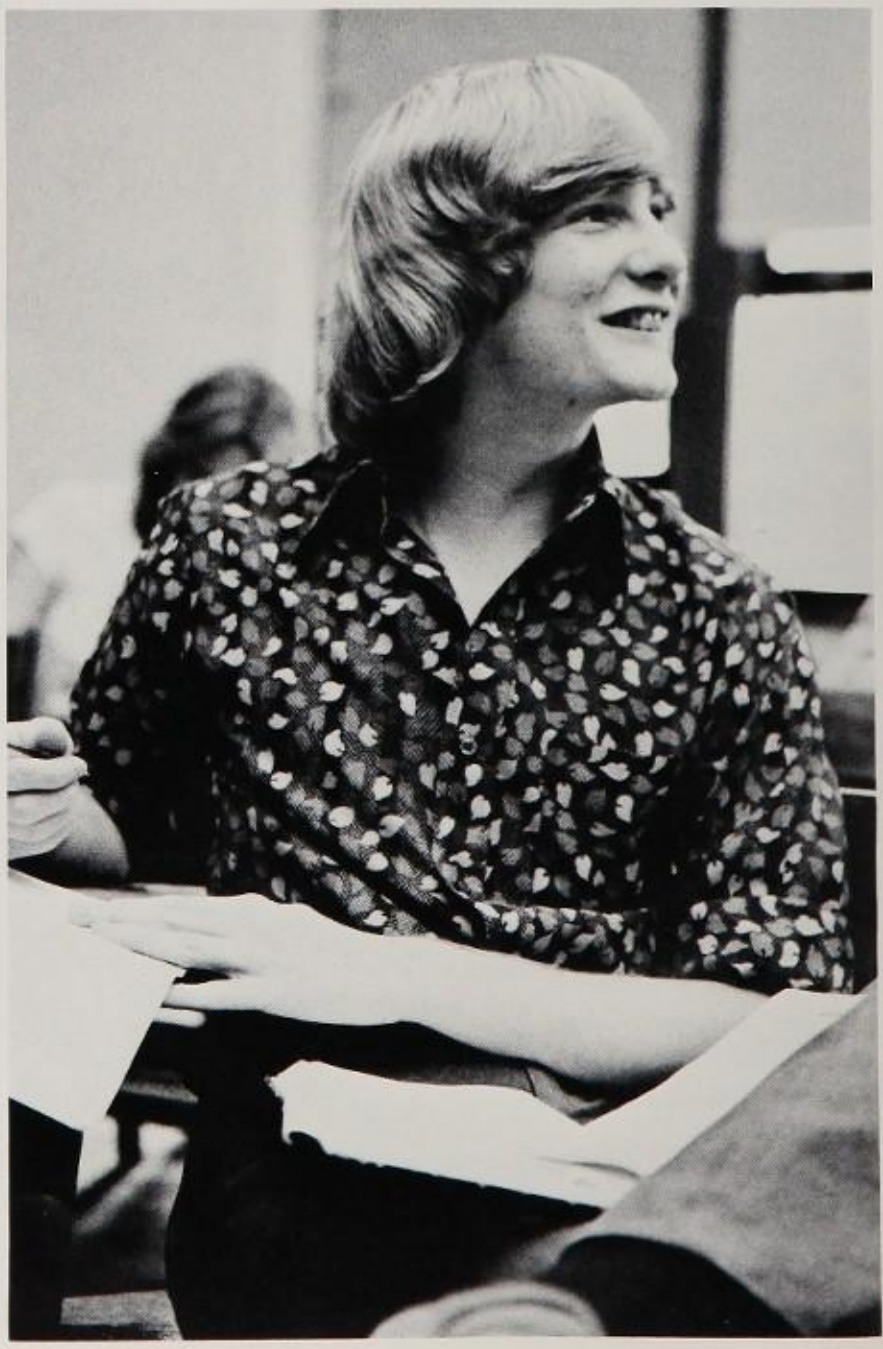
Mr. Burns' 4th period sociology class listens attentively to his teachings.

Mr. Burns tries to get his point across.

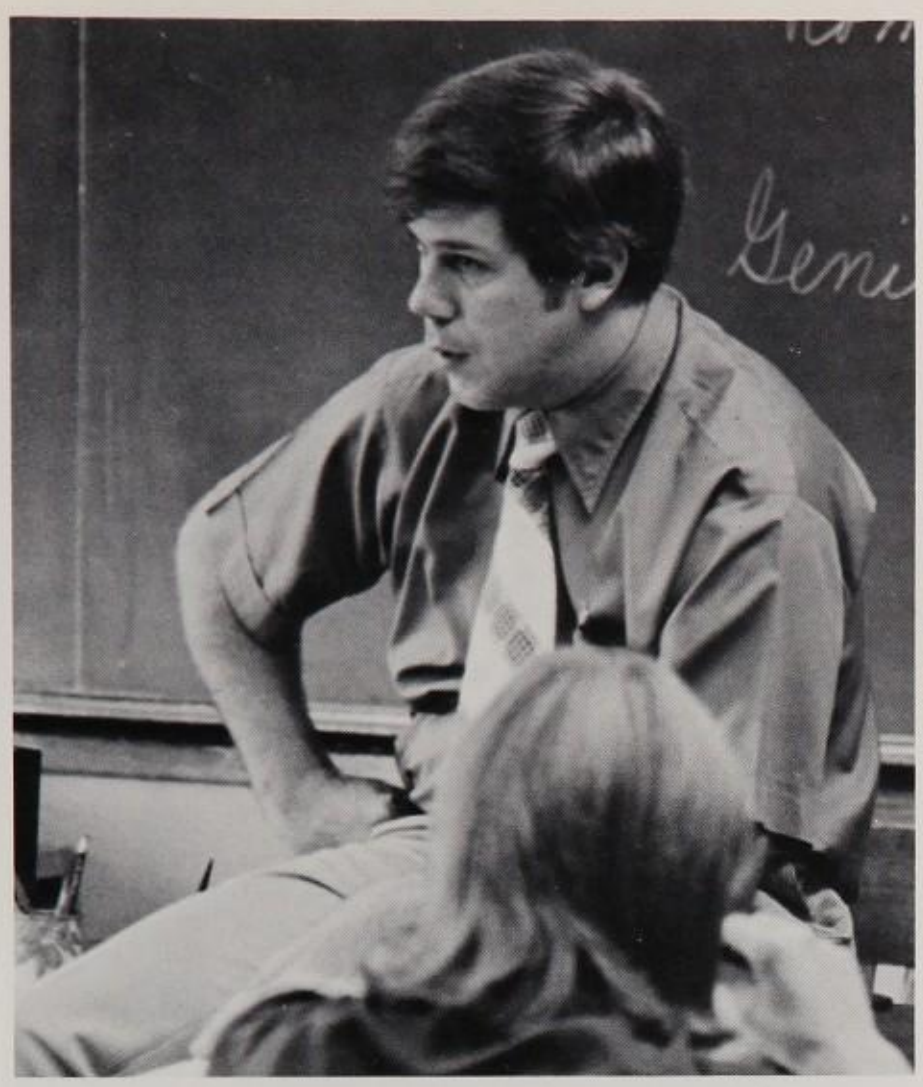
Miss Gilson's French class takes the first test of the year, covering basic words and phrases.



Oblivious to his surroundings, Bob Elliot sinks deep into his Spanish II lesson.



Jim Cobb stops in the middle of his studies to ask a question to which he obviously received the answer.



Mr. Schomaker lectures his Spanish class on a new lesson they will be covering.

LESS STUDENTS ARE INTERESTED

Richard Ross is amazed at what he is reading in Spanish while Jeff Sanders studies over his work.

The major goal to the teachers of Foreign Language is to teach the students to speak as accurately as possible.

Mr. Schomaker, the head of the language department, expressed the great importance of listening, speaking, reading and, writing.

Good films can help the student very much but there is a lack of funds to provide the movies.

"We have an excellent lab department, and the students take very good care of it," replied Mr. Schomaker.

The one thing that came to mind when asked what he would like to see changed was the class size. He would like to see more students become interested in foreign language. He pointed out that most students don't realize that you can take languages as electives.

Connie,
You are very nice young lady who I had the pleasure of knowing during 75-76 school year. Good luck in the future. Stay sweet..
R.M.A. Rich 78

96 FUTURE CO-ED GYM CLASSES

Miss Mitchell, girls' P.E. teacher, feels that Holmes has one of the top physical education programs in the state. However, she would like to see a few improvements. "We need more time for classes and a smaller number of students in the classes to take advantage of the facilities we have," she commented.

One new phase in the fieldhouse this year was the painting of the lines for two regulation size volleyball courts, which allowed real use of the fieldhouse for volleyball for the first time.

One phase of the Federal Law Title IX has passed co-ed gym classes, which will go into effect before 1978. Miss Mitchell disagrees with this decision and feels, "The girls will be at a disadvantage because of the different degrees in skill level. Also, girls are not as competitive as boys."

Top left: Tracy McCoy kicks the ball in an attempt to score. Top right: Jeff Armstrong and Jeff Ward practice their bunnies in gym class. Bottom right: Bill Aker, Jim Roberts, compete to make the most shots.

TEACHING INDEPENDENCE

Special Education to Mr. Mathews is helping a special child blend in with the average person of his own age. It also is to help them with self help skills so they are not dependent on friends or family.

When asked how it was doing so far, he said, "I have a very good group that does like to work."

He also replied, "I feel it could be improved but the type of improvements that I want to make take time. It is difficult for me to adjust to the students, and for them to adjust to me."

CHORAL GROUPS DISPLAY THEIR TALENTS

Pointing a finger, Mr. Maloney shows these young musicians the correct musical note on their music sheet.

Mr. Maloney taught music this past year. In an interview with him we got the idea that the music program was doing many new and different things.

"The choir is going to try to go to the Morehead State Concert and the All State three day concert."

Mr. Maloney had plans for doing an extra musical in cooperation with Mrs. Ross and the senior class play, along with the usual concerts throughout the year.

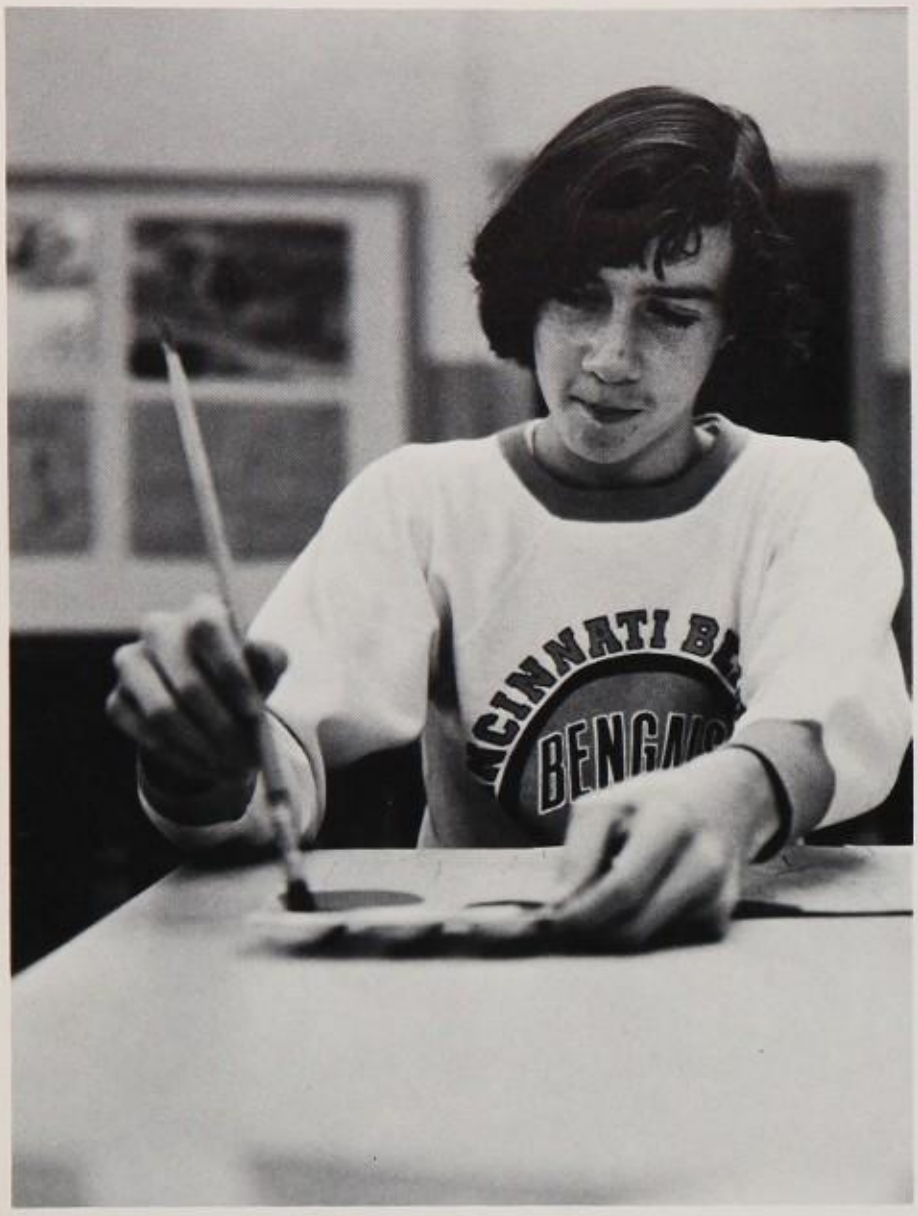
As to the groups, there is a little difference in the class sizes, but he felt he had better quality voices this year.

The only real improvement he wants is to get more sheet music of new and different songs.

Mr. Maloney explains to these students how to read music symbols.

Mrs. Curry exercises her vocal chords by singing with her class.

The eighth grade choir begins their singing development by performing in front of a large audience.



EXPRESSIONS

Ms. Louise Vilardo and Ms. Betty Nordheim, art teachers during the past year, felt that Holmes students did not get the chance to display enough of their art ability in the halls of the school this year.

Both also were working on some changes in the art classrooms. They hope to eventually put down a new tile floor and display more art work on the walls of the room, hoping to give visitors a better impression and an indication of the artistic talent that we have here.

One major change they both would like to see is the phasing of the art course, much like the phasing introduced in the English department this year. The major reason for this change is basically the same — to develop more student interest in the wonderfully expressive world of art.

MAKING NEW PROGRAMS

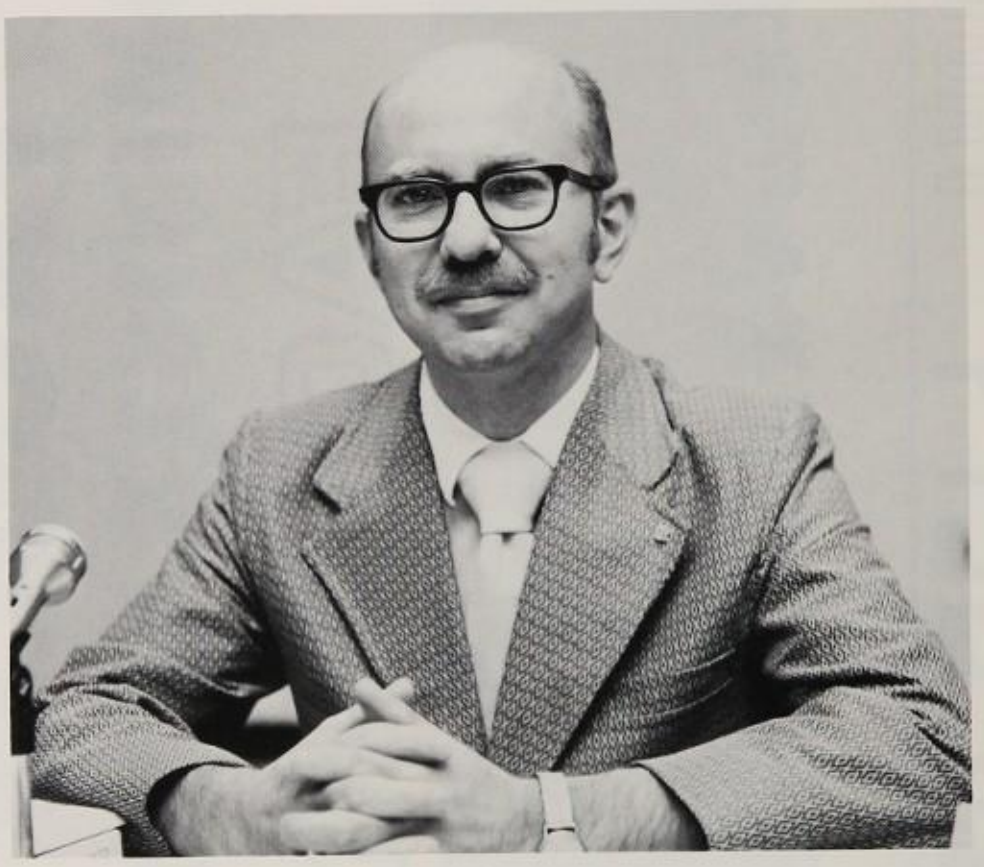
This board is made up of men and women chosen by the citizens of Covington. They lend a helping hand in running the large Covington School System.

These members are faced with many problems that have to be solved to the best of their ability.

The board is headed by Dr. Blade, the new superintendent.

The members of this board should be commended for the fine job that they do.

This is a very time consuming job and the board members spend many hours on making new programs and policies for the use of the school system.



Top picture: Pictured here is the new associate superintendent, Bert Bennett. He was the superintendent for 7 years. He received his Bachelor's degree at the University of Cincinnati. He received his Master's degree at the University of Kentucky and the Wesleyan University of Connecticut. His new job includes hiring teachers and working directly with the superintendent, Dr. Blade. Middle picture: Dr. Blade is the new superintendent of the Covington School System. Before coming to Covington he was the superintendent in Mansfield, Connecticut from 1968 until 1974. Dr. Blade received his Doctor's degree in Education Administration. He was superintendent in different schools, including one that was much like Holmes. Bottom picture; left to right: Board members seated — Mrs. Joyce Macke, Mr. Berry Mang, and Mrs. Virginia Chapman. OVERSIZED CLASSES BIG OBSTACLE

Middle left: Mr. Moeves, principal, catches up on his accounting. Middle right: Mr. Dupin, assistant principal, looks over some report cards. Bottom left: Mr. Hoskins, assistant principal, talks with a concerned parent.

When asked about changes in the school, Mr. Hoskins, Principal of the Jr. High, had this to say, "We have alternative programs, a learning disabilities class in 8 Jr., and a Graphic Arts Shop in 10 Jr. Also, the enrollment is bigger than last year. It is about 60 students greater."

"Our weakest point, in my opinion, is the oversized classes," said Mr. Hoskins.

"Our strongest point is our excellent, cooperative teaching staff. They make sacrifices for the welfare of the Holmes Jr. High students."

Mr. Hoskins feels this could be improved: "I wish the students would develop a sense of responsibility in dealing with every day responsibilities such as the cleanliness of the building. A diploma would be more meaningful if students took pride in their work so that the community would be sold on the school."

DOES ABSENCE MAKE THE HEART GROW FONDER?

Mr. Veldhaus

Mrs. Walden

Miss Brewer

Mr. Logsdon

According to Mrs. Mary Frances Walden and Mr. Paul Veldhaus, there have been no changes in their department so far.

Mrs. Walden, Jr. Girl's Dean, feels the biggest disciplinary problem is tardiness. "I really don't know how this can be solved. I would say that students should budget their time."

On the other hand, Mr. Veldhaus, Jr. Boy's Dean, feels the biggest problem is smoking. "To prevent the problem, we need the cooperation of the students. If they are going to smoke, they should smoke before they get to school and wait until they leave school to smoke again."

Left center: Mr. Veldhaus distributes class absence slips. Right top: Mrs. Walden checks absentee list. Right center: Miss Brewer fills out an admit slip. Bottom right: Mr. Logsdon listens to parent's explanation of student's absence.

WHEN I FIND MYSELF

Mr. Keller is our new Junior counselor. When asked how he liked his first year at Holmes he said, "I am really enjoying Holmes a lot. I like the faculty, administration and the kids. The only big problem I've come across so far is getting information about vocational school across to the students."

Mr. Poe has transferred from Junior to Freshman counselor. When he was asked if the Phase Elective program looked successful, he said, "I think it will be. It gives students more of an option in the choice of study."

Mr. Poe is also head of the occupational department. When asked what was changing in his department, he replied, "In the occupational department, the number of vocational students has increased since last year."

He said the weakest point in his department was "trying to get more contact with parents." He commented that the strongest point is "the general attitude of students, faculty, and parents."

Mrs. Hester is the secretary in the Ad office.

When asked what was changing in the office she said, "The work is constantly increasing because of new school activities and new government programs."

"The interruptions, I guess, are the weakest point in our department. It seems we can never get caught up."

Mrs. Hester said, "The agreeable and cooperative personnel . . . and the willingness of people to lend a helping hand is one thing that does not need improvement."

LIBRARIANS PLAN MEDIA CENTER FOR LIBRARY.

Mr. Lee Goodeman

Our senior librarians, Mrs. Reynolds and Mr. Goodeman, talk of the changes they want to make:

"We are attempting to make the library into a media center by doing the following:

1) Keeping the library open to students as much as possible during the day.
2) Making it possible for students to use audio-visual material as easily as books in the library.
3) Encouraging teachers to schedule classes into the library.
4) Increasing the reference collection to provide for more individual learning."

"Some of our problems are that:

1) The library is used as a study hall.
2) No professional library is established yet.
3) The book collection does not increase as fast as it should because of lost or missing books."

Mrs. Charlotte Reynolds

HAVE IT YOUR WAY

John Bowling, student employee, stacks lunch trays for washing.

Carlene Hammons takes a students order for lunch.

Lula Jacobs rings up the prices on the cash register.

Shirley Rider prepares the lunch plates for the hungry students.

At the start of each year, the lunch schedule always runs late. However, this year was particularly late. Mrs. Davis, dietary head, commented, "The reason for this is the fact that there are more students, and they have a bigger choice of food. Also, they do not have the money ready."

She said the most difficult task in the cafeteria is, "getting people to move through the line."

One thing that has changed in the menu, compared to last year, is the choice of food the students and faculty have. In the past, there was one main menu. Now, there are two main courses listed from which you can choose, and a variety of side dishes.

Row 1: Mildred Dibble, Thelma Megerle, Dorothy Beske, Ruth Tomlin, Margaret Waddell, Eva Tummins. Row 2: Helen Starks, Valerie Race, Wilma Frakes, Loretta Delaney, Della Slavey, Loretta Schurrer. Top left: Larry Scroggins does a Johnny Carson type comedy skit that had the whole audience in stitches. Top right: Shannon Knoerl singing the Jr. Class Song. Accompanying Shannon on the piano is Judy Yelton. Bottom left: Mike Sechrest put on a fascinating performance as he and his band were rockin' and rollin' to some Jimi Hendrix tunes. Bottom right: Jim Evans dresses the part of an Avon lady in his skit about a psycho.

CLASS OF "77" SHOWS ITS TALENT

On Wednesday, February 25, approximately 85 members of the Jr. Class showed off their talents by presenting the Jr. Revue to the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades during school.

For 2 months, students took time out from their daily routine to come to practices and perfect the show.

There was a wide variety of skits from "Pizzas" to "Boogien' in the Jungle." The first act of the show was Nancy Schulte singing Bread's hit, "If." Bev Oldham sang the Sr. Class song, "I've Been Searchin," by Chicago and the Jr. Class song, "Mahogany," was sung by Shannon Knoerl. Piano accompaniment was by Judy Yelton.

The band presented an excellent program of music prior to the show and a sensational explosion of rock music to end the show. Greg Land, Bob Elliot, and Mike Mahan played in the brass section of the band. Guitars were played by Brent Casey and Jim Cobb. Jake Rauch got down on his drums, adding to the full beat of the songs, while Burt Woods got into it on the organ.

Mike Sechrest and Eric Smith on guitar, and Steve Thomas on drums played some really far out, funky tunes of Jimi Hendrix.

The students had fun and enjoyed putting the show together, and they were very pleased with the end result.

Talking to a junior who was in the revue, she said, "The great thing about being in a program like this is you get to know and come close to so many people you never met before."

The only real problem was trying to cut some acts to fit in the allowed time. All the acts were so good it was difficult to decide what acts to cut.

Miss Clark and Mr. Huhn put in a tremendous amount of work on the production. There were many nights they stayed from 3 to 4 hours for practice. Both deserve a round of thanks for their dedication.

Top left: Jami Smith and Robin Wills show how they would look if they were high school students during the 1950's. Top right: Barb Chandler and Tanya Carr cut up in front of the camera dressed in their 50's costumes on "50's day." Bottom left: Sonya Berry, Victory Queen of 1974-75, crowns the new Victory Queen of 1975-76, Kathy Mersch, while her escort, John Flesch, watches. Bottom right: John Flesch gives Kathy Mersch a kiss of congratulations after her crowning. The ceremonies took place at the close of the pep rally Friday, February 13.

The Sr. Student Council coordinated a number of activities, one of which involved a spirit week for the basketball team. The week beginning February 9 to February 13 was set aside to show school spirit for the big game between Holmes and Newport Catholic on February 14. Monday was "blue jean day" when all students wore blue jeans. Tuesday was "good luck day" when the students wished the basketball players good luck. On Wednesday, the school looked like the decade of the 50's when the students dressed like the 1950's. Thursday was "button day." All students wore spirit buttons that were sold for various games. Friday was proclaimed "red and white day" and all students wore red and white. The week was capped with a pep rally that afternoon. At this assembly, the Jr. Student Council conducted the Victory Queen Crowning.

HUTCHINSON, SCOT A.; Scot is a graduate from Holmes on a program designed for the physically handicapped. He is a graduate from Holmes due to the fact that he was required to register at the school in his district, even if he did not attend that school. He was not able to attend classes at the school because of the many steps that barred his way. But he is a member and graduate of the Holmes High Class of '76.

"FINALLY . . . "

Throughout this year, the school has undergone many phases. Each one of us has encountered many "phases and phaces." Some will linger in our minds; others will disappear. To remind us of those phases and phaces of 1975-76, the Lest We Forget staff has provided you with a source of memories. We would like to extend our appreciation to the businesses who supported us with their ads, all the subscribers, the administration, "phaculty", Mr. Greg Whalen of Hunter Publishing Company, the employees of Hunter Publishing Company, Mrs. Betty Megerle and the photographers of Osborne Photo Labs, Larry Apple of Interstate Photo Lab, Connie Felts, Debbie Ponder, Joan Stallings, Miss Edwards, Carla Hodges and the advertising staff, Nancy Stockton, Tony Church, Mark Lankford, Mike Perry, and anyone else who has helped in producing this book. To all of you . . .

"THANKS"

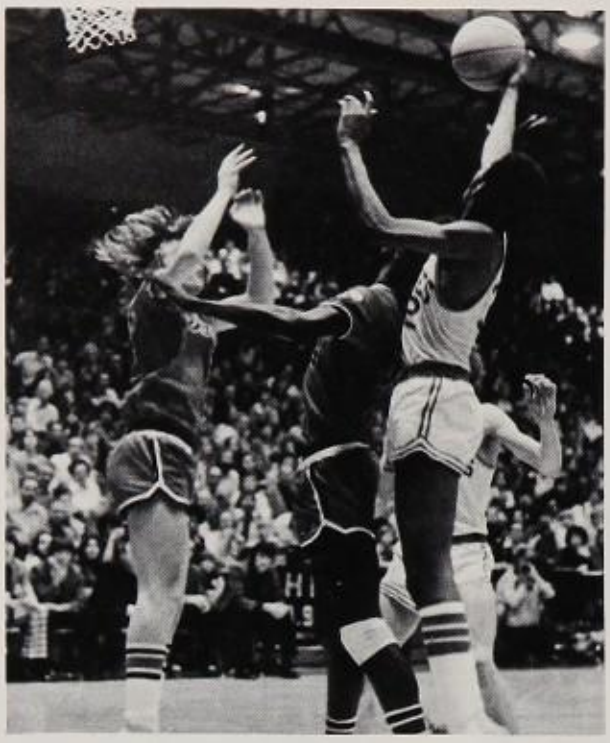
BULLDOGS TAKE 9TH REGION



Before the 9th Region Tournament, this year held at Conner High School, many fans and the local newspapers favored 1975 champ Newport Catholic to repeat. NewCath had been rated higher in the polls than Holmes most of the season. But when tournament time arrived, the Superdogs got down to business.

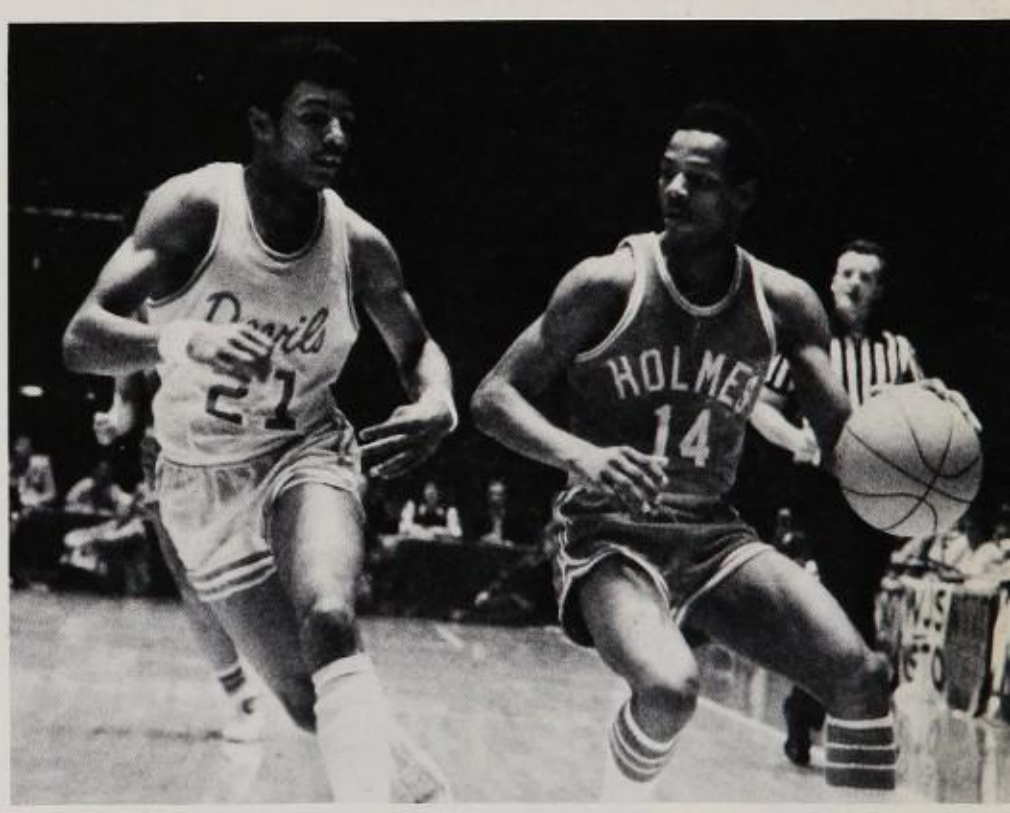
In the District Tourney, Holmes whipped Covington Catholic 80 to 63 and edged Holy Cross 72-70 to take the title.

In the Regional, the fired-up Bulldogs beat Campbell County 72-67, and easily took NewCath, 73-60, behind great play from Eddie Ross, Mike Moore, and Doug Schloemer in probably the most emotional game of the season. The next night, Holy Cross fell for the fourth straight time in the season a the Bulldogs poured it on hard from the beginning and never let up. Th final was 79-52.

A twenty five year wait had ended, and Holmes was on its way to Louisville and Freedom Hall with two very convincing victories in th Regional. It was a real lift for the school, something none of us will ever forget.

Top left: Senior guard Dwayne "Tilt" Morris is fouled as he drives to the basket. Morris and Mike Moore formed one of the best guard combinations in the history of Holmes basketball. Top right: Junior Eddie Ross gets up to snare a rebound from Holy Cross center Mike Jones. Bottom right: Guard Mike Moore moves down court against Doug Lonneman. Moore had an excellent regional, and was named to the All Region squad. Middle left: Senior center Bruce Tilley attempts a steal from Holy Cross's outstanding forward, Mike List. Bottom right: Roy Meyer (41), the "Super Sub", goes after a loose ball in the lane. Others are Mike Jones (34), Jim Humphrey (25), Brian Rieger (44), and Ed Ross (32).

A PHYSICAL VISIT TO FREEDOM HALL



Top left: At the motel, Doug Schloemer checks the paper for the first round scores. Middle left: In the locker room before the game, Coach Flynn tells the team he is proud they have made it to Louisville. Looking on are Coach Spurlock, Roland Marks, Mo Green, and Doug Schloemer. Top right: Roy Meyer (41) prepares to drop a pass underneath to Eddie Ross (32). Middle right: Mike Moore, who played a fine game with 19 points, moves downcourt against James Clay. Bottom: Tension shows on the faces of Holmes fans during the contest.

Connie,
To a real sweat girl who helped out in Junior class.
Love, Jim

Holmes fans showed tremendous support for the team, chartering several buses and buying up all available tickets quickly. Approximately 1200 fans, along with the championship marching band, made the trek for the March 25 game against Lexington Henry Clay.

The Blue Devils had defeated Holmes earlier in the season 90-63, but the Bulldogs had improved greatly. This was quite evident once the game started. With Mike Moore shooting expertly, the Dogs trailed by only one at the half, 31-30. Holmes also out-rebounded the much larger Blue Devils 22-10 during the half.

Holmes continued to play hard through the 3rd quarter with Moore, Schloemer and Roy Meyer playing well, and it ended 49-48 in favor of Holmes.

In the 4th quarter, Henry Clay became quite physical and took the lead. Holmes could not get the momentum going their way and the game ended 74-65. Moore and Schloemer did most of the rebounding, outgrabbing Henry Clay 39-36.

So, though it had ended much too soon for Holmes fans, the Bulldogs had given Henry Clay much more of a fight than they expected. And the whole experience had been a thrilling, unforgettable one for players and fans alike. The team should be very strong again next season, and this tournament experience could pay off big next March. This was a season the class of '76, all other students and the city of Covington will always remember.

Thanks, Bulldogs. You were Super.

To Connie,
One of the silliest
nicest girls I know
Remember all the fun
we had over the past years. Hope to see you in some classes next year. Have lots of fun next year.

Connie,

To a really sweet person who I've known for a while. Good luck in the future and stay out of trouble.
